No. 687 Undisputed

In order to optimize the annoying scrolling up and down in social media and to find what you want and should find in your time-line, you need to install the following plugin in future and integrate it into social media platforms

1. An icon that closely resembles the fan is integrated into the social apps
2. This plugin, which scans your fingerprint at the touch of a button, also scans your desired important media on the display, which you had previously pressed with soft, medium, hard touch. This means that you can find important paragraphs or multimedia content on the mobile phone of the future, which absorbs your fingerprint with soft, medium, hard touch, and saves these things in the library of your well-being, i.e. in a search algorithm that repeatedly reflects and finds the things you want in the timelines of the social media platforms. 3.

You scroll through Twitter, in this example your existing timeline, and you find something important in the content that you wanted to find. Then you tap the location of the content using soft, medium, or hard touch and drag it to the fan icon. This remembers the timeline location and area where you can find your data. By tapping the fan logo, your remembered content is then displayed in a directory and displayed in a tabular format in a new way.

No. 688 GhettoVet

No. 1 In this construction simulation you have to transform a ghetto into a hospital for animals, this happens when you start with the destruction of the ghetto and start the conversion with your available money, which you receive at the beginning of the game

No. 2 If you have cleared the ghetto and dismantled it and created a new free area for the construction of the new animal hospital, you can now start planning and after the construction of the hospital, equip various areas of the hospital with rooms and equip them with medical equipment and create additional lounges and rooms for the animals and equip them with the important equipment and thus begin to build the infrastructure.

No. 3 Now that you have built the hospital with the resources and finances you received at the beginning of the game, you can now wait for the animals that need to be treated to arrive. Not to mention, you have to hire staff and doctors to carry out tasks to treat and care for the sick animals.

No. 4 For each successful treatment of an individual sick animal , you get hearts and a monetary unit, which you need to build the hospital's further infrastructure and use in the future

No. 5 If you have created a successful structure and infrastructure, your hospital will grow steadily and will now bring positive balance sheets and profits in the future in order to finance new buildings and rooms or staff and equipment

No. 6 Once you have made enough profit, you can now build a second ghetto on the map, from further ghettos, and so on, in an effort to build another hospital for the sick animals that are delivered from all over the world.

No. 7 Ultimately, you have to release the resuscitated and healthy animals from the hospital, or buy them for your own zoo, which could be planned to be built next to the hospital with the profit you make, which of course attracts more visitors and in the future, you will receive more visitors and be able to react more quickly to cases of illness and treat these animals better if they become ill again.

No. 8 If you have managed to build a successful, functioning hospital and the associated zoo, there is another variant of the game that comes to light. In this variant, you have to let the animals in your zoo compete against other animals from zoos owned by other users of the game in the Plants VS. Zombies game principle. There will be a fight between the animals. The aim is to defend your zoo so that the other animals from other users cannot take over your zoo. This is done through the special abilities of each animal you have chosen from your self-built zoo area.

No. 9 You try to stop the onslaught of other players' animals and protect your zoo. This is done using the game principle of Plants Vs. Zombies mentioned above. For example, if you have survived the onslaught of the enemy while running your hospital and zoo, the animals that were used for this can be treated and nursed back to health in your own hospital. You have to be careful that the other users want to take over your zoo and have the goal of turning your hospital into a ghetto again. So take care of your sick animals, buy them up with your successful system to get money so that you can scare the other users away. If you have developed a good strategy, you can also attack other users with their animals and thus take over their zoos in the end.

No. 689 DreamcastFood

No. 1 In this food restaurant, an individual compilation is put together as a dream food box for you, which means that you have to provide the following data so that the AI-controlled food restaurant can put together a dream box of food using the data you entered and delight you with it. No. 2 The data required for this is your height, weight, hair color, eye color, fingerprint scan and your needs that you follow in life and like to consume. For this you have a category list where you can select these, based on this data the Dreamcast Food Restaurant provides you with a suitable

Compilation from different areas of food cultures, through AI technology, together
No. 3 You can order the dream box, which is available in small, medium, large sizes, to your home or order it on site in the food restaurant, you do not know in advance what you will get to eat, based on the data entered and the AI, the food restaurant puts together the food dream box for you

No. 4 You can also swap your box with other people in the restaurant and get a different dream box food box individually, hope and look forward to what is in the dream box, if you liked the dream box, you can scan the QR of the dream box and save it in the in-house app in your library and use it again in the future if you place another order and have your favorite dream box in your hands again to eat

No. 690 RawPace

No. 1 With a newly developed social media app called RawPace, you can imagine the following in the future: in short, it includes the exchange of multimedia data, such as messages, images, videos, editing of these multimedia things, the highlight is that this social media app has an integrated search engine that reacts to AI, which means that you can search for data, as mentioned above, with the help of an assistant who will help you answer questions about the multimedia data and with his help you can edit this data in real time.

No. 2 You also get a new visual view of a globe in the app, which shows you this multimedia data in a new 3D form and is better at communicating this data. This means that you can, for example, create a video with the help of AI and pass it on to your contact person. This works in this 3D globe. The visual view shows categories, people, messages, images and videos in a new way. See Google Maps original.

No. 3 You only need to log in with your eyes and finger scan and no longer need passwords and email addresses, in addition, the 3D globe serves as its own operating system and can take over and display all possible functions and procedures from Windows, plus the exchange of multimedia data, simpler and better designed.

No. 4 RawPace runs exclusively in the cloud system and can access several social media networks and bring them closer to them and distribute the data displayed in their 3D globe with new visual views, zoom in zoom out, for example. Furthermore, this 3D globe display is designed to be close to Google Maps and can also access its functions. No. 5 For example, if you have received a message from a friend, it will show you their place of residence zoomed in or a matrix of information about their profile from the social networks, visually on the 3D globe and their message in a newly displayed 3D view.

No.691 3StrikesOnYou

In this bowling game you have to try to control the bowling ball, which can have individual special abilities depending on the collection of the corresponding icon, while you play the levels, such as fireball, ice ball, wind ball, rain ball, multiplication ball, bomb ball, miniature ball, like in pinball, through the levels with the flipper arms and try to knock down the pins with the ball at the end of the level, if you manage to do so, in this game you try to collect the special icons for the bowling ball during the game in order to break through the opponents, barriers, passages and continue to use the flipper arms to reach the goal, namely the pins.

To get to the next level, you have to throw 3 strikes in a row and keep to the allotted time while guiding the ball and heading for the target.

No. 692 DonGorilla

No. 1 You control a gorilla in a jungle, his task is to collect all medicinal plants for his garden so that it can thrive in the jungle again

No. 2 You must be careful of hostile insects, other animals and people and, in an emergency, eliminate them early with your gorilla if an encounter occurs

No. 3 You have to cover a certain distance to the medicinal plants, the game is timed and you have to deliver your garden, the extremely important medicinal plants, within the required time so that it can continue to thrive and begin to bloom. No. 4 Once you have managed to make your plants bloom with the help of the magical medicinal plants, the game can really begin. No. 5 You pick the flowered plants from your garden with the gorilla and distribute them around your village, inside, outside and around, individually as you see fit, in different places and positions. No. 6 The flowered plants now have special abilities, which means that they can be used to defend the village, as you are expecting an onslaught of enemies who want to break into your village to steal your treasure. With the planted and self-made special magical plants, you can now use their special defensive abilities to protect this village from intruders (see Plants Vs. zombies)

No. 7 Try to position the flowering and magical plants in your garden so that the intruders and enemies, such as animals, insects and people, do not manage to get away with their attack on your treasure and ultimately capture it. No. 8 If the enemies do steal your treasure, you and your gorilla troop must get it back within a set time limit, as this treasure is needed to get your garden to bloom with sunshine and rain energy. The medicinal plants that you have to look for and find at the beginning of the game No. 9 For each attack that is fended off, you get points, for each opponent and enemy that is eliminated, the gardeners get points, with these points that you have to collect, you can then buy new areas of land in the jungle and build a new garden there in order to generate more land zone for them, so that you can finally conquer the entire jungle with your gorilla and keep all enemies and opponents at bay or encircle the enemy base and strongpoints and finally eliminate them.

No. 693 DragonMirror

You are standing in the middle of a rotating carousel with 36 mirrors mounted around it. You have to pay attention to what is shown on the mirrors, in this case a number with the number 13. On mirror no. 8, you have to turn or touch a given sum as a target using the rotating carousel and the mirrors. This means that you turn the 3D carousel and touch the mirror, the number can be configured to the next matching number and added, multiplied, subtracted or divided. So, in this example, the sum 100 is being sought. Mirror no. 8 has the number 13. While you turn the rotating carousel with the mirrors, look for possible numbers that together add up to the number one hundred with the mathematical symbols that you also have to touch to put the numbers in connection. In a certain, given time, try to link the numbers in the mirror to the final target sum and use the mathematical symbols as mentioned above to set the sum. If you have touched the wrong numbers in the mirrors, a dragon will come out from behind the mirror and spit lava or fire onto the ground in the middle of the carousel and try to set them on fire. This only happens if you make multiple errors in the connections. If this happens, the dragons will set the ground on fire and you will have to end the game as a loser. If you have reached the final target sum, you will move up a level and can then play a new level and turn or touch the target sum. You must climb the building you are in one level up and get to the top of the building and place your flag there so that you, as the winner of the game, have conquered a building as a conqueror and can use this as a rank symbol for your property in the country or city. You will fall down in the conquest of heights. If you do not reach the target sum, you will move up completely. If they fall off again and set themselves on fire by the dragons, they lose the game and have to start again from the beginning, climbing the height of the building, step by step, to try to get to the top

No. 694 TreasureFish

No. 1 You have 6 different fish characters to choose from with which you start the game, each of these fish has special characteristics and ways to achieve the goal that is required, namely to get close to the treasure that lies underwater

No. 2 You throw these fish into the water with a fishing rod and then use touch to guide them underwater past the enemy fish, whereby you have to use the special function of the first fish used to get past the certain enemy fish, each throw becomes an individual task due to adversities of the weather and your momentum

No. 3 You must then, when your fish is submerged, guide it past the enemy fish within a certain time limit that you need to control the fish, and guide it close enough, if possible, to the treasure chest

No. 4 You use the remaining fish, with their special functions, to get close to the first fish you threw, to push it, and thereby make it come closer to the treasure chest

No. 5 Have you understood that you have to use the fish, like underwater marbles, in their position, to use them with and against each other, to kick the group so that they position themselves close to the treasure chest, if you have managed to position one or more fish near the treasure chest, then your opponent can now try the same, the one who has positioned the fish closest to the treasure chest can receive the treasure chest and the contents that are in it

No. 6 The person who could not win the game against them and could not get close to the treasure chest or could not get close enough to it with the fish loses the game and has to compete against another player in Vs. mode from the Internet carousel

No. 7 You lose coins after every defeat, you start with 100 coins and have to keep building them up in order to unlock new levels or fish with new special functions, which you urgently need to overcome the new opponents with the new levels, the winner receives the contents of the treasure chest and hopes for coins or other upgrades for their fish, which they can use to continue playing the game in the future.

No.695 PeckingOrder

Let's assume that you want to access data that you cannot find on the Internet. To do this, you only need to install the peckingorder app and note the following: the data bank is individually uploaded by many users from the Internet from their own computer to the cloud using a drag and drop system. You receive payment for the data package requested by the app. This means that the app works on supply and demand. This means that when you receive a request from the app to upload the data you want, be it music, videos, images, programs that the app is looking for, that you own, you receive payment via PayPal. You accept the request and upload the data that peckingorder needs into a VPN cloud system from your data storage on the computer using drag and drop into the peckingorder app. The app stores your data free of charge and compiles it in a database alias Yahoo and makes it available to other users. In return for releasing your data, which is searched for by the app, you will receive a sum of money credited to your PayPal account. Your IP address will not be checked, but you will be invisible when you upload it. The peckingorder app makes this possible with the SWIP encryption method (Show width interface protocol). You will also not be blocked or tracked when you upload your data. Everything remains encrypted and invisible using a VPN method. The Peckingorder app adds the upload it requests to the download cloud database, where users from all over the world can find and download your upload using the Yahoo search engine system. The other users, i.e. the downloaders, have to pay a very minimal amount of money to them for the download of their package if they want to download the data package to their data storage. Part goes to Peckingorder and part to you. In this case, depending on demand and the size of the data package, the amount paid by the downloader is paid 50:50 to both parties.

This is how they are paid again and the Peckingorder app is financed, so that their maintenance costs for the operation of the cloud where the data is stored are covered. When you search for data, you have to pay a fee if you want to download the desired data to your data storage using the Yahoo search system. Everything is based on reciprocity and loyalty to the demand and supply of the users who trade their data in the cloud system. The Yahoo search system is a digital globe, like Google Maps, and you can view data from all over the world using the Vector Streamline system before you download it and save it to your data storage. This means that you are protected by VPN and Swip encryption and your data from various sources or locations of countries in which the cloud is available via streamline your demand and supply. You select your country on the globe and look in the cloud to see what data is made available by category system. You can search, find, or leave a request for data that users will provide in the future. The data is constantly stored in a streamline process from cloud to cloud and constantly moves from country to country, thus securing the system. You therefore select a country on the globe, which searches the cloud of other countries and streams the desired data to your selected country upon special request, thereby binding the download for you in real time, thus remaining concealed of the system and other hackers cannot immediately see what is currently available or made available for download. By using the one hand washes the other principle and through data loyalty, you can access a worldwide network of data and look forward to finding old and new stuff that you have been looking for for ages and downloading or purchasing for a minimal fee. For your payment, a required data package is provided by the Peckingorder app, which asks you to provide data.

No. 696 ExtraAddition

No. 1 You have a grid in the shape of a circle, rectangle, triangle, square, in these shapes there are numbers from 1-49, you have to play each shape with a throw of a ball, this means you throw the ball at the first shape first, you have 4 balls of 4 shapes to choose from, try to add up the given value that is shown to you on the scoreboard, technically by adding each shape with a ball and the numbers hit.

No. 2 The player who is closest to the required sum wins the game and goes into Versus mode, which is rotated on a carousel and a new player is searched for in VS. mode. You must remember that when you have thrown the ball onto a number in the grid, you must touch this number and drag and drop it to the next number, after throwing it into the second form with the ball, and do the same with the 3rd and 4th numbers so that you can put together the result according to the specified required sum. As a gift, if you win at least 7 games in a row, you will receive a number, free of charge, on your digital lottery ticket from 1-49, to play the lottery with.

No. 697 PushinWeight

No. 1 You get up at a certain time in the morning and check whether you feel like training before you go to the gym pushing weight to train, I recommend you first have a mix of quark with 0.5%, plus an individual piece of fruit, it doesn't have to be much, with the integration of oatmeal put in a blender and drink and enjoy this fluid

No. 2 After you have completed a power walk of 3km or more to the Pushingweight gym, you can now start training

No. 3 You stretch with rubber bands that consist of 6 different colors, this means that for each stretching exercise you are provided with a rubber band, this has the benefit of loosening up your body and stabilizing motivation No. 4 Then go and remember which stretching exercise and which color of rubber band you had problems doing correctly, this means that each rubber band of the 6 different colors has a concentration that stretched you, remember which color caused you problems and get on the treadmill and select the color as mentioned above and run about 3km with the mode of this color, depending on your will and motivation, you can of course also select the other difficulty levels of the treadmill, depending on the color that triggered an effect in your brain during your stretching exercise, and thus run an individual distance, be it soft, medium, or hard, hard, medium or soft, for example mentioned

No. 5 If you have now stretched and run on the respective color selection that motivates you, you now have to promote your strength, this means that you now snuggle up to a diagonal, vertical, horizontal shadow stream line, rubber band machine in order to illuminate your strength for your body, that is, your legs and arms are attached to the rubber band machine and you can now select kicks and punches again, depending on the color selection that did you good on the treadmill, and thus start a cycle and system for you to use and train with.

No. 6 Find your rhythm after several attempts and switch back to running or stretching after machine training, or the other way around, be flexible and imaginative when using the colors and strength of the bands and use these to build on your own self-created experience in training, for example with a partner as an assistant who records you and discusses these videos with you at home and, ultimately, optimizes the training together with you and improves it for you and him.

No. 698 JustDippin

No. 1 We record the word of a company with a share capital, in this example Audi, with our wording. A stream line sequence now appears through your voice spoken wording, in which you insert 6 colored vector points in the places you like. You use the colors green, yellow, blue, red, white and black to identify the vector points. Now you speak the second company with a share capital according to the alphabet system and speak it, as mentioned above, into the microphone with your own voice pitch and, after the sequence is shown, insert the 6 colored vector points. Then you record another company from the system with a share capital, i.e., according to the alphabet system, the company that starts with C, with your microphone and add the corresponding 6 colored vector points to the stream line sequence.

No. 2 Now link the green vector points with lines, i.e. 3 lines in the form of a streamline, the next step is to link the other colored final 5 vector points, also with the same color to each other, with a line from level 1 to 3, which you have previously created yourself, using your spoken wording, namely the sequence streamline line.

No. 3 In the set, colored vector points you now insert individual year, day, month data by drag and drop from the stock ticker system, for example 0.1.11.1985, so you need 18 vector points for the first 3 stocks and named alphabetically in the system, as these 3 levels are now linked with lines, to form colored vector points, with year, day, month by drag and drop for your individual calendar data, now drag these into the remaining 17 existing vector points, this can be done by drag and drop from the stock calendar ticker

No. 4 Once you have the colored vector points for the 3 companies you have selected that have stocks, in this example Audi, BMW, Mercedes, which are linked to each other in levels of the sequence streamline line, by supplying them with colored vector points, by setting them individually, a visual matrix is created which, from the 3 companies with the first letters of the alphabet that are listed on the stock exchange, creates a prediction for the next company in the alphabet system, which you should theoretically use, a forecast for the 4 letters of your company, and provides it with mathematical and sketched guidance, a forecast for the purchase of shares that could bear fruit for you in the future, which is sent back to you by voice.

No. 699 AskAboutMe

Every smartphone owner is informed daily to ask the app a question that he or she has just asked or is planning to ask. The app collects the number of questions and creates a library of questions that will grow to a great size if all smartphone owners stick to participating.

No. 2 Based on the questions that were collected, an algorithm is created specific to the location from which it came. The app now links the questions with other questions from other locations, for example Katzenfurt and Nashville, and uses the questions to put together reasons and goals for the future in order to link them with other questions from other locations in the world, in order to interpret the needs of the person asking the question, so that from this, based on the reason for the question and the need for the question, a fictitious answer to a question from a different location, for example Los Angeles, can be created. By linking the newly fictitious answers, a database is created which now contains questions and answers. Now open the Askaboutme app and search for a specific search query. The Askaboutme app gives you a reason for your search query and provides 3 questions and 3 answers to ensure that you can find the right one, what you wanted.

In the background, you can update the search personally with your knowledge, which means you press the joli button and add your additional information checked by the app database to the search answer and save it so that your next search query delivers more explicit and certain results than today's search engines. You can also share the search answer and link it with other users and send it to others randomly, which can then be linked or improved by other users. In the stream, the perfect search engine for your questions grows day by day and will change the future of AI. Phew!

No. 700 X-Bitches

Get scanned using the eye sensor in the notch on your smartphone and enter your body weight and height, plus press the fingerprint sensor and click connect. The database will search for singles in your area using the criteria you have entered, i.e. eye and finger scan plus your body weight and height, if you have shared your location. You can also only activate the search and radar if you have walked enough real kilometers in the real world and implemented these in the X-Bitches dating app. If the X-Bitches app finds a like-minded single person in the database, it links them to the questions database. Now, before they get the first pictures of the person, they are assigned questions that they have to answer.

Answer them as best as you can and your profile will be created. This profile, which changes every day depending on how you answer the questions, can then be called up as your single match. If the other singles like what your profile has to offer, they can connect with each other and send and receive voice messages to each other in order to have a digital conversation.

No. 701 EndlessSummerVacation

No. 1 In this game you have to try to find the solar energy and rain modules to charge the sun and rain so that the seeds you planted in their placed zones start to bloom, this happens when you set out to steal the solar energy and rain modules from the castle guarded by aliens

No. 2 You control your 3 characters, simultaneously, multiplayer and use their skills to locate the castle and disarm the aliens, to steal the solar energy and rain modules and use them in their headquarters so that the sun and rain shine on your zones in different phases and make the seeds you plant grow.

No. 3 The aim is to encourage your seeds to grow so that you can receive your harvest. This harvest is important for the future and for the time machine, in order to charge it with energy from nature. You have to harvest your harvest within a certain time and bring it into the time machine so that it has enough energy to take your characters to a new level. Using the game mechanics of Bomberman, you have to defeat or disarm the aliens in multiplayer, destroy them and bring the modules back to your headquarters in order to charge the energy of the sun and the rain to make the seeds you have planted grow so that they bloom and you can harvest them, and then use the harvest to charge the time machine and give it energy.

No. 4 Watch out for the aliens who try to destroy you with various weapons, stay cautious and do not get lost near the castle, but plan your movements in time and accurately before you can storm the castle to steal the energy modules

No. 5 Try to steal the sun and rain energy modules within the required time, otherwise, when the time runs out, the aliens will regenerate themselves after you have destroyed them and prevent you from taking back your energy modules or your upcoming harvest. If the aliens steal your harvest and bring it back to their castle, new aliens will be created and you will have difficulty fighting them in order to ultimately destroy them or prevent them from stealing further harvests from them.

No. 702 Penitentiary

No. 1 You must try to use the prison in which you are in to put the time you spend in a TV format, this happens when you ask Internet users to make you more intelligent in order to challenge your sentence in court, this happens when you equip the prison with Internet boxes and connect them with users from Wikipedia, this happens when you invite them to communicate with you

No. 2 If you have placed an invitation on Wikipedia and released your incomplete story for editing, you now have to wait for you to be found and for your story to be well received. If a user has found you and accepted your invitation, the Wikipedia user can connect with you via live stream, through the internet live stream boxes, in the prison you are in.

No. 3 The aim is to fill you with information from Wikipedia, for this you are taught by the Internet user, you only have to say a number and the Internet user opens the page on Wikipedia and tries to educate you with the content, you have 1000 days, i.e. about 3 years, to exchange ideas with the Internet user and thus inform yourself about different topics from around the world, be it legal topics, history topics, work topics, school topics, political topics and many other various topics that are currently freely available on Wikipedia, once the time has passed and several Internet users from Wikipedia have educated you with knowledge from around the world, you can now counter your accusation and plead for your acquittal, the court now asks him individual questions from different topics, see youdontknowjack or who wants to be a millionaire or japerdy, answer these questions correctly, which you will be answering 3 years later concentrated, they will be released, depending on the crime they have committed, the entire procedure in the prison and the courtroom will be recorded on camera and broadcast live on YouTube, they will receive a subsidy for their behavior and their charisma, possibly from watching YouTube users, depending on what the viewers decide and in what amount, this will be credited to their private account and after their release from the prison, they can use this and thus establish a foothold in the socialism of society in order to reintegrate themselves.

No. 4 If they have managed to get themselves acquitted and answer the court's questions, they will be released and, if the TV format from the prison has been successful, they can now use it to teach other YouTubers what they have learned and thus educate and inspire them. Their specialist knowledge should help the students on their own channel to avoid committing crimes and ultimately to promote their education in order to find a good job that should be tailored to them and to earn enough money to secure a foothold and to offer their family, which they are building on it, a good life.

No. 703 Midnights

No. 1 You must try at midnight, after spying on your neighbors, to break into their houses or apartments and find certain objects that you like, making sure that the neighbors are not at home

No. 2 The goal is to complete a list of tasks that is available to you, the game is timed, grab the items in the empty houses and complete the task that is given to you level by level

No. 3 If you have managed to do so, you must place the stolen items in the right places and positions in your villa. They must be in the right order and direction in order to get points so that you can unlock more places, plan your raids and start carrying them out.

No. 4 When breaking in, pay attention to the alarm systems in and around the house. If you are caught by the alarm system, the police will be after you. If you are caught, the game is over and you only have 3 attempts per spied house to get the specific items and complete the mission.

No. 5 So plan and practice your skills on a suitable facility to perfect the burglary, in addition, if you have completed enough orders and you have stolen all or a certain number of items, you can now put prices on them and as the goal of the game, put them up for public sale, make sure that when you sell them you do not let any of the neighbors you stole from into the house, you must advertise in various places outside of the robberies you have mastered in order to reach interested parties, attract their attention, invite them and sell the items under the hammer at an auction

No. 6 Try to sell enough items to earn money to finance a new vacant villa and change its location so that you can cover your tracks

No. 704 Nutsthis

No. 1 You have to try to smash various walnuts that suddenly appear on the smartphone screen with a hammer. These walnuts are present in different colors and shapes and are scattered on the smartphone screen.

No. 2 So you always have to choose the right color and shape for the right walnut in the real-time game and use this hammer to smash the walnuts.

No. 3 In each walnut, after a correct hit by touch, there is a time coin plus symbol hidden, which gives you more time and can top up your time credit account, because you have to stick to a specified number of pieces and order, for each failed hammer blow you receive a time coin minus penalty

No. 705 Leatherface

In this poker variant, you must try to magically change the players' game by swapping faces with the help of real masks that are true to the original faces of the players you are playing. This means that after every 6th round, each player swaps the other's face with his own, using realistic masks that have the effect of changing the game eye to eye by transforming the player for each round played - in this example after every 6th round or after a certain time period - the entire game of No Limit Texas Hold'em. To illustrate and understand, the well-known player Tom receives Damian's face mask and he receives Tom's face mask and has to play with it for the next few rounds and, after the time has elapsed, swap them for a new face mask that is randomly drawn through the face carousel. This poker game varies as a result of the face mask swap and, for the audience, who ultimately bet on the faces, as a result of betting, how high the winnings per player will be. The closer a audience member gets to guessing the bankroll of the chosen poker player at the end of the game, they receive a present, namely the mask of the poker player whose bankroll they guessed at the end of the poker game.

No. 706 Stormpress

This extension for the games of the future will bring you the best results and advantages after completing the individual quests and tasks that are in the computer games. It means that you receive uniform Stormpress points for successfully completing quests and tasks in the various game areas. You can use these to create a connection between the advertising and advertising spaces that will be increasingly implemented in games in the future, an integration of a puzzle, which means that you have to accept the advertising as a puzzle or memory function in order to maintain the appearance and ultimately make it visible.

Once you have put together an advertising space, you can now use the Stormpress points to stick the advertising space, in this example a composite poster, on the wall and be happy if you manage to scan the QR code behind it with your smartphone in time for the advertising product and save the QR in your library on your mobile phone and then use it in the real world to buy the advertised product from the advertising space, from the computer game, in your shopping center below, at a special discount that is compared to your collected and used Stormpress points account. After the comparison, you will receive a special discount price for your real product and could therefore save a lot of cash if you really want to buy the advertised product from the computer game advertisement in the real world, in your shopping center.

No. 707 Xerxes

You have to implement the Moonraker plugin into the Remix button. As an additional function, by double touching the Remix button on YouTube, a compilation of videos appears which uses the AI colour technology to search for videos that have the same or similar colour spectrums. The Remix button combines these colours and searches for like-minded videos that have to match each other and ultimately, using the AI, presents and puts together a new video for your private channel, which you can then personally change yourself, edit to suit your needs and then distribute to the whole community on YouTube with your new stuff.

No. 708 Moonraker

To create a new playlist of YouTube content, all you have to do is follow the steps below: hold your finger with soft, medium or hard touch on the content you want to assign; soft touch will bring up soft colors; medium touch will bring up medium colors; hard touch will bring up hard colors; press the video or content, which will then be assigned to the RGB circle spectrum. Now press the search symbol and the RGB color spectrum will appear in the form of a circle. Now move the point to the colors and it will find your saved content that you previously saved with soft, medium or hard touch. You can also find other content from other users; based on the uniform and individual color assignment of the user, a color scale is also displayed; you can use it to see which colors were used most often. Click on it and use the timeline to select the best possible favorite stuff using the scroll up and down mechanism and thus find your way through the content of other users.

No. 709 DuckDying

No. 1 In this game you have to try to activate a flight with a duck you have designed yourself. This means that you have to collect various food icons on the running track while you control the duck in the run in order to charge the duck so that it goes into flight mode and can collect certain time points depending on how many times you fly through the circles through flight zones. These points are important to keep the timer positive, because if the time runs out you lose the game. The game is played in multiplayer mode, so you play simultaneously against 8 other participants who ultimately try to get into the top 4 places.

No. 2 The first place receives 10 points, the second 8 points, the third 4 points, the fourth 1 point, they must collect these points in order to unlock further routes for the future and thus continue the game or continue playing, they can also collect individual weapon systems on the routes and use them against the other participants to prevent them from completing the run.

No. 3 You must try to conquer and overcome passages and barriers as you complete the run. These will increasingly prevent you from entering flight mode. Be quick and vary the speed of your duck. Jump over the obstacles and objects and smash other obstacles with your beak to continue to complete the run and get into the top 4 places. Complete all the routes and then, in the build-up mode, you will have the opportunity to develop your own route systems in order to pass and overcome them with other participants on the Internet.

No. 710 LimosandBimbos

No. 1 In this racing game you try to transform your car while driving and turn it into a limousine in order to pick up the bimbos, passengers on the journey, and take them to individual locations in a required time. This happens when you maintain the correct speed on the corresponding vector points and thereby collect points. No. 2 For example, if you have approached and picked up the red vector point at a speed of 70 kmh, the green at 100 kmh, the yellow at 130 kmh, the blue at 165 kmh, the white at 190 kmh and the black at 240 kmh, you get combo points if you have picked up all the colored vector points one after the other at these speeds, for example, you can also pick up the different vector points, which are available in different colors and shapes, on the race track, individually and collect points this way. If you have collected enough points, your car will transform into a limousine and the game will now continue. changed, that means that means in short

No. 3 After transforming the car into a limousine, you must now pay attention to a radar and find passengers, pick them up and drop them off at their destination within the required time. You will receive extra points if you manage to get the passenger to their destination within the time limit. You must also pay attention to the speed of the limousine, as the police will pursue you if you cross the speed limit. You will receive extra points for each passenger dropped off. Always collect enough passengers and drop them off at your destination within the required time to receive the extra points. No. 4 With the standard and extra points collected, depending on how many you have collected in the required time, you can exchange them for other purposes, namely to unlock new routes and new and improved cars. You will also climb up the game's rankings with your points and place your flag at the locations if you have broken the best times for the routes. is ultimately to occupy the entire globe with their flags and become the king of this racer

No.711 TheCurseofMoney

No. 1 You must try to find the required amount of money, which is located in a pyramid, in the tunnels and tomb rooms and get out of the labyrinth back to the surface, i.e. to the exit

No. 2 Inside the pyramid, see (Pitfall game) passages and barriers await them, as well as mummies and other Agptic warriors, which they must avoid or destroy with their collected weapons in order to render them harmless

No. 3 If you have found the amount of money and created it from the pyramid, you can now use this amount of money to design and build a pyramid yourself. The aim is to build as many pyramids as possible in a set time and wait until other users of the game connect to the game and try to find their hidden amount of money and, if they have done so successfully, build opposing pyramids and challenge them to find their hidden amount of money.

No. 4 The person who has collected the most money and managed to build the most pyramids in the required time and keep the game users trapped there, leaves the place as the winner, moves on to the next higher level of difficulty and builds his pyramids in other countries, this time with a different design and other tunnels and infrastructures.

No. 712 Once Upon in the Project

No. 1 You start the game and have different or individual genres from the film industry to choose from. You have to choose between one of the 6 categories, which are as follows: Action, Sci-Fi, Comedy, Drama, Crime, Horror. If you have made a selection within 60 seconds, you will be transferred to one of the categories, into a film with tasks and quests waiting for you. No. 2 Your main task is to complete the quest and complete the tasks in your file, with the aim of manipulating and ultimately changing the film and the story of the film using the golden ticket, which you can use to switch from film to film. Visit the cinemas and cinemas in your chosen story to switch between the films and find the different files where information is located, rewrite the film you are currently watching with the information and have to change the entire game events. No. 3 Enemies from different areas are waiting for you, who will prevent you from want to prevent her from changing the film, i.e. the game, and ultimately changing it so that she can successfully move on to the next category, make sure to load her golden ticket with real kilometers walked (pedometer from the real world) and give her the opportunity to walk the routes in the other films with her to find the files with which she must rebuild and change her film and the game to the final goal in order to get to the portal or activate it at the end in order to get to the next film category or film story and thus pass the first category with her film story

No. 713 RollaDay

No. 1 You control a vehicle, which you can put together from a modular system, your goal is to collect light icons while driving so that it does not get dark while driving, because at night vampires appear on the track, preventing you from completing the route

No. 2 There are different types of light icons in different sizes and colors waiting to be picked up on the track while driving. Pay attention to your light level indicator, which must be constantly charged. If the indicator drops to a certain level, the day track, i.e. the ride, is switched from light to dark. If the switch happens, vampires appear on the track, which you try to ramen, destroy, and get off the track. So pay attention to the collection of light icons.

No. 3 In addition, drive on the track, following the roads from your location, which is generated from Google Maps, try in the required time to overcome the time barriers that are given, with a better time flow and to overcome the track, in the light

No. 4 You leave a ghost on the streets you have driven on and the other players in the game try to catch up with your ghost and ultimately beat the ghost's time to secure the street at the end with their best time

No. 5 The aim is to occupy certain streets on the Google Maps Earth map with your best time and to break the existing records and leave your ghost for your opponents

No. 6 If you have set a percentage of streets with your record, you can now change your location and go record hunting in other federal states. Set your records with your ghost in the areas you drive on and wait until your opponents break them. For times not broken by the opponents, who each only have 3 attempts per street to break their record, you give them points. Points are deducted from the opponents' account and credited to yours. With these points, you can improve your vehicle, i.e. update it and make it stronger, faster, and equip it with weapon systems that you need against the vampires in the night.

No. 7 You also need the points to unlock new locations for the Google Earth map. Note that your opponents can take your points away from you, so try to assert yourself as a better driver and win the locations for yourself.

No. 714 NinjaAlf

No. 1 You install ninjaalf on your smartphone and have to provide answers tailored to your needs and enter as many answers into the application's recorder as you think possible within 13 seconds

No. 2 Once you have done that, ninjaalf will present you with the specific questions and provide you with the information you think is right, with video, text, image information, to make it easier to absorb your topic, which you did not know before, that there was a topic

No. 3 These topics are made available to you on the ninjaalf website in a tabular and alphabetical list structure. You can now click on the topic and read about it with video, image, text and try to optimize and simplify the information you have found on the Internet about the topic you are looking for.

No. 715 IfiwasDuckinYou

No. 1 You are in a difficult phase of deciding to cheat on your beloved woman, you feel in your emotions and you know 50% that your beloved has broken your heart, there is an alternative in this club to rethink your decision, think about it and make a decision

No. 2 You enter this club only on your own initiative, if you are sure that you will make a mistake, namely meeting a new woman who will offer you an adventure to make her fall in love with your wife again

No. 3 You have to follow the following, you have to register in an eye scan procedure and by chance, if you are lucky, you will get a ticket to visit this club

No. 4 If you have been selected, you will be informed by a stranger on the street and a ticket will be handed to you, which will state the meeting point and the time and what you have to base your decision on in terms of the criteria.

No. 5 If you have understood it and understood your meaning, you can now visit the club with your ticket. In this club there are various options to choose from that you will like, which means that masked women and you yourself, masked, can express your needs in your own way, if you ultimately want to get involved in it.

No. 6 The beginning has been made and you have to go to the dance floor to your favorite music and favorite drink that loosens you up and with other masked women who have also been invited, take a suitable one by the arm and, if she agrees, do a dance with her that lasts up to 33 minutes, without a break of course.

No. 7 If you notice that this or another woman likes it and you are having fun, you will then be offered a table and you can, of course masked and appropriately dressed, challenge her to a question battle to determine whether she resembles your wife, while you will receive the best gourmet food from the club to support your needs, not too much, but appropriately summed up

No. 8 You follow your list of questions, plus the list of questions from the club, and try to find out whether your intelligence is a good fit for the woman you are dating. If that is the case, stick to this topic and do not choose a new woman or she does not choose a new man.

No. 9 If you have found the so-called belief that your IQ works according to the questionnaire test and your answers seem to be correct, you can now, if you are sure, choose a room of your choice in order to have a happy ending with your masked woman, whom you have chosen yourself, namely passionate love exchange, according to your ideas and with the mutual consent of the other party, or you block it and look for a new partner again through dancing. You have 3 attempts to find happiness all night long. If it doesn't work, then you leave the club and go to your wife with the confession and confess your sin to her with humor and honesty and invite her to this club with a free ticket to show her how great it is to be able to come into contact with strangers masked and unrecognized. No. 10 The goal is to have new adventures through this event, through the club, and to fight jealousy, the worst love killer in a relationship, and to fall in love with your wife again, with a sense of humor, and to promise her never to think about other women again when it comes to an exchange of love, with the ultimate goal being when you are back in the swing of things with your wife and are doing things wildly, tenderly, adventurously with each other and so fulfilling your vows anew

No. 716 ChangeyourGod

No. 1 Before the game starts, you create your own god according to your favorite and imaginative ideas through the creation mode No. 2 Once you have created your god, you are dropped onto an uninhabitable planet, where you have to do a lot of things, namely the creation of rivers, forests, mountains, plants, seas, earth, clouds, and an infrastructure on which you can establish your first civilization.

No. 3 You must try to plan the infrastructure in such a way that your first civilization can build on it and benefit from it, and you must also find different ways to create the infrastructure in the best possible way in order to bring and create the civilization that builds on it its first steps quickly towards the future.

No. 4 Once you have shaped the planet and set it up properly and created it with the powers of your god, you can now release your first civilization onto it. Before you do that, you must, again in creation mode, create 6 different characters with the help of your god and create them to suit your infrastructure.

No. 5 Once you have done that and created your 6 extraordinary creatures, the game principle is similar to a construction simulation game, see (Age of Mythology), but the trick is that you have to interact with the game from the real world, which means that you have to find certain things, for example those required for building the first house in the game, in the real world and implement them into the game via augmented reality in order to complete the construction of the house.

No. 6 This means that you have to search for things in the real world using Argued Reality, find them and import them into the game so that the construction of different things can continue. Using a radar, you can find these things in the real world, search for them and then import them into the game using Argued Reality.

No. 7 You have to give each character special things so that they can interact with each other and must, in this example, build the first house and from then on build different types of buildings, in addition, their kilometer meter is charged during the search, this is important to charge your god so that he can move in the future to set

No. 8 So try to build a civilization based on the implementation of required things using argument reality from the real world and build up an infrastructure of your own environment with your civilization until you reach the completion of your civilization level, ultimately defend yourself with your own formed civilization from invaders on your planet and try to conquer other planets after successfully assembling your military.

No. 717 CrumblingCastle

No. 1 You must first try to rebuild and strengthen a crumbling castle, which you must first find on your radar in the digital world. No. 2 In order to obtain the required pieces or chunks for rebuilding the castle, you must go into the real world and search for them using your radar, which shows these valuable building blocks in your vicinity or elsewhere, record them with Argument Reality and save them in your reconstruction library.

No. 3 If you have now collected the required pieces or chunks in your reconstruction library, you can now use them in the digital world or in the game to rebuild the castle, only with the help of a partner who you have previously asked to do so when searching in the real world through the Connection Love relationship, who is near you or in the vicinity, to connect with each other using the building blocks you have found in order to rebuild your or the castle of the person you were previously shown using the radar when searching for the building blocks and with whom you have entered into a Connection Love relationship for the reconstruction of your or his castle. No. 4 So now, if the Connection Love relationship led to you having a conversation while searching for the building blocks in the real world, you can meet together in the digital game and visit your castle hand in hand and try to rebuild it step by step with the Argument Reality building blocks that you have found, as long as the building blocks are sufficient and they form a section. where they have to go back into the real world to find the next missing building blocks and to continue to restore them according to the principle mentioned above. No.5 For each successful section of the reconstruction of your crumbling castle, you will receive hearts, which you will need to finally awaken Prince Valiant, at the end of the successful reconstruction of your castle, as ruler and defender, from the deep sleep that he was put into with a StoryofUs magical spell by a malicious witch.

No. 6 If you and your partner, whom you found in Connection Love, have successfully rebuilt your castle by searching for the building blocks in the real world through Argument Reality, which are necessary for building your castle, and with the timed points, namely the hearts, are used to awaken Prince Valiant at the end, you can now try to defend the castle, which you have also equipped with an individual arsenal of weapons, which you have exchanged for points, with Prince Valiant and your partner, in an individual time, from an impending attack by the evil witch and his company. No. 7 So you have to make your castle fit for the future, using building blocks from the real world that you have found through Argument Reality. In return, you get and have to stick to a time limit before the other players, namely the evil party, led by the evil witch and his company, try to overthrow your castle and kidnap Prince Valiant.

No. 8 If you have survived the attack, you can now go to the place and the mystical building where the witch is located, digitally and with your partners, who you have connected to a team through Connection Love, try to take over and kidnap the witch in order to bring her to your castle and capture her, with the background

, that the evil party is preparing to do so in the later course of the game to free the witch again

No. 9 Protect your castle from the attack of the evil party, which is led by other Internet players, and emerge as the winner if you try to transform the witch in your castle back into the princess within the required time. After a time limit expires, the witch is kidnapped before the transformation, begins the game as described here and starts a new session, as long as you have transformed the witch back into the princess in her safe castle within the given time.

No. 718 KlischYeah

No. 1 You control a hedgehog called Klisch, the forgotten brother of Sonic, to master the following requirements in the game with him. In short, he has various options for orienting yourself in this game. The game starts with a Google Maps 3D globe. Enter your location, where you live, and you will be zoomed in to your location from a bird's eye view, and Klisch will be positioned on your street, which serves as the start of the game. No. 2 You must now try to run the entire following streets after running from your street in your location and earn Yeah points with your run. This means that you must collect colored vector points that serve as orientation and enable you to find your way through the street of your location. The vector points are in different shapes and sizes on the streets and have different meanings. For example, the circular vector points are for orientation, the triangular ones for Acceleration of your character, the square ones are intended for collecting points in time and the rectangular ones for activation, after collection for your weapon systems that you need to destroy conspicuous enemies while running and to avoid barriers or obstacles. No. 3 You must try to run through all the streets in the given and required time and block passages and barriers with special enemies that are waiting for you on the streets in order to collect enough Yeah points, this happens when you have run through a street with obstacles and enemies without making any mistakes in the required time and at the end of the street, which corresponds faithfully to your real location, you put a flag and thus mark your territory for the rest of the game.

No. 4 If you have finally completed all the streets in your location without making any mistakes in your run, place a mark on each street name to mark the successful completion of the run, namely your individually designed flag. If you have mastered everything and successfully completed all the streets and placed your flags, you can now change your location and select the next one on the Google Maps 3D globe, namely the next existing location, in this example, your neighborhood location. If you have collected enough Yeah points and fulfilled the Yeah points requirement, you will and may try to outdo the streets that have not yet been completed from your point of view in the time set by another player in the game and replace the flag on his street with yours. The goal is to exchange all the flags, if possible in the required time, in order to simultaneously collect Yeah points and secure your territory for this location, plus add the Yeah points received to your account. No. 5 If you have your If you have marked your territory and received enough Yeah points, you can, as just mentioned, change your location again to conquer new territories. The aim is to achieve a certain percentage of conquests in your country so that you can visit other countries in the world to show them that the cliché of Sonic's forgotten brother is visiting in order to steal the territories from the other participants in the game.

No. 6 While you are marking your locations with your flags, it can happen that other players in the game have beaten their records, i.e. a faster time on their roads, and have replaced the flag you set with their own, or plan to do so in the future. If this happens, you will be switched back to your location via déjà vu mode and must take your flag back into your hand with a better elapsed time and a flawless run and place your flag as a marker and make your record available to other players as a ghost. The final goal is to show the most areas seen, with their flags and the records behind them, on the entire globe of Google Maps 3D, in percentage terms, with the most areas seen, with their flags and the records behind them, which you have walked through in a bird's eye view and managed to place them everywhere in the best possible time. If you have reached the specified percentage value, you will be crowned the winner in the first session and will be placed at the top of the ranking list on the globe with your records and the number of Yeah points you have collected. Ultimately, the game continues in the solar system if you become the king on earth and you travel to the other planets in the solar system and play the rest of the game according to the game principle explained here and conquer the set areas with their records and as a sign, you put up your flags on the streets and defeat the other players on the other planets that are available in the solar system.

No.719 Iwishinlt

No. 1 You are sending or receiving a voice message with content that constantly changes in topic or remains linear and you lose the orientation of the message. To fix this, click on the blue dot in the voice message timeline. Now 3 colored border dots will appear around the voice message frame, which move individually, seen as an animation. Now drag a colored dot, the yellow one for intro, the blue one for mitro, the red one for outro, into the voice message. Now, according to your wishes, the What's up Ki iwishinlt puts the content together for the respective colored dots that you have dragged into the timeline of the voice message in text form under the voice message, color-coded. The process is called drag and point movement content.

No. 2 In addition, if you hold the yellow dot for a longer time, for example, and drag it out of the frame into the voice message, a question symbol appears, which approaches the content, in this case, intro, and asks appropriate questions to give the person who sent the voice message more information about what exactly they meant by it. The person can then accept the questions or let them disappear without knowing. This is based on mutual consent, or the option expires after a while and is no longer visible to the speaker of the voice message creation. No. 3 This is how What's up now learns questions from users and, after consent to the data protection declaration, saves or secures them in its personal questions library. The AI now uses these questions to answer search queries if you want to search the voice message for content by double tapping.

No. 4 The other 3 colored additional dots can be activated by double-tapping on the voice message, which means that the colors violet, green and silver now offer the following additional options for the content, if you drag violet into the content and suitable videos will be provided to you for the content via a link on YouTube or other streaming platforms, if you drag the green colored dot that moves around the frame, you will receive suitable messages for the content via a link from your search engine, if you drag the silver colored dot into the content, suitable products will be made available to you via a link to various sites that offer these products, or these options, which appear transparent, will be visually displayed for you under the voice message.

No. 5 Under the voice or text message, videos, images, messages or product suggestions are then visually displayed with the integration of an AI search engine bar with pinnable specifications. If you like these things, you can swipe right to save them in the What's Up library or forego them and quickly swipe left to delete these things that have been made available to you as content. Swipe up to share these things with your What's Up members and social media platforms. Swipe down to create a connection that AI creates a tutorial for you and shows you immediately for illustration.

No. 720 Shortyvill

No. 1 You control the character Shorty, known from scary movie and have 3 tickets for the jungle to find seeds for your villa

No. 2 Search for these seeds on the radar in the jungle at a certain time and let them be caught by the wild animals

No. 3 Once you have left the jungle, return to your villa, you immediately notice that there is no light, you have a vacuum cleaner in your secret hiding place, which you must first find in the darkness, this is fundamentally important for the game
No. 4 If you have found your secret hiding place with the vacuum cleaner in the required time, use it immediately, the function of the vacuum cleaner includes the following functionality after planting the seeds in your house

No. 5 After planting the seeds in the darkness, you wait for the spirits that have stolen their light to approach the planted seeds, then, when a spirit is close enough to a seed, you activate your flashlight, which you always have with you, but which only works for 3 seconds, and suck the spirit up with your vacuum cleaner.

No. 6 Try to vacuum up at least 13 different ghosts, according to their trap position, the seed they attract, the ghosts

No. 7 The vacuum cleaner can also be used as a rich device, which means that if you have sucked up enough ghosts, the option of rich can now be unlocked for the vacuum cleaner

No. 8 The Rich Trunk of the Vacuum Cleaner, now searches and shows you, on the suddenly appearing radar, the way to one of your weed plants, go and follow the radar, using the Rich Trunk

No. 9 If you have managed to find the weed plant in the time running out, you must now bring your captured spirits together to form a puzzle piece and use this as ammunition. If you have done so, then fire the vacuum cleaner tap at the weed plant, which will shine in enlightenment again.

No. 10 From now on, you must find the remaining plants and use them as ammunition with the captured spirits that previously fell into the trap on their seeds, after you have put the puzzle piece together from them to bring the plants you have found to enlightenment

No. 11 After you have enlightened all the plants with Shorty, your character in the first or third person perspective, your villa shines full of magical light events

No. 12 Of course, the neighbors see the light events and smell these plants outside their property and ring their doorbell and want to go for a walk with them upon request and spend this wonderful light event with them.

No. 13 You complain and offer the plant yield after the enlightenment to your neighbors for a certain cash out, with the money collected, you buy a new villa at a ghost villa auction and let your neighbors live with you on rent for cash or for free until they return to the jungle to equip them with new seeds for your new enthusiastic villa, which you successfully acquired at a bargain price at a ghost villa auction, and try to make it light up again according to the game principle described here and make it habitable for your friends, and on and on, you have to make most of the ghost villas habitable and collect enough money to donate it to the community's charities, to become a hero in your hood, be a gentleman, with the best yield, your shorty

No. 721 HexenClub

No. 1 Your goal in this game is to find all the scattered witches in the world and turn them into mice

No. 2 You search for the scattered witches using a radar and must use them, with your magic book, with the collected letters for the passages on the way to find the witches.

No. 3 You have approximately 3 hours of play time available every day, a total of one week, so 21 hours in which you have to find and transform the witches

No. 4 If you have found and transformed all the witches during the week, the mice that were previously witches must now complete the following tasks in the next step of the game

No. 5 You have to move all the transformed mice on the display into the correct mouse holes using soft, for small, medium, for medium and hard touch, for large mice into the correct size of the mouse holes using drag and drop and soft, medium, hard touch, grab the different mice on the display and guide them into the mouse holes using this function until the display is cleared

No. 6 Any mice that are not fed and are still on the display after the time has expired are transformed back into witches and the game starts again from the point mentioned at No. 1

No. 7 The aim is to transform all the witches and then bring or pull the mice into the right mouse holes using the function mentioned above and make them disappear

No. 8 If you do not manage to remove the mice from your display in 3 attempts and ultimately turn all the witches into mice, you must be prepared for the mice to now block your real display of the smartphone and block your smartphone's function or your touch controls

No. 9 If this happens, you must unlock your smartphone screen again by trying to hide the mouse in the correct Paypal holes using the drag and drop, soft, medium, hard touch function.

No. 10 Each PayPal hole has a certain individual amount of money value, if they manage to get the mice into the holes, a charitable foundation, namely the HexenClub, earns the earned monetary amounts, which appear individual and are variable, and donates this amount to institutions for needy disabled people

No. 11 If you do not manage to hide your greed and not let the mice disappear into the Paypal holes, then your smartphone display will be locked with the mice as a visual graphic and can only be unlocked by your own heartfelt request the next morning when you transfer the amount you want to the Witches Club

No. 722 PageinConnect

You must have the permission that Facebook gives you to access the faces database. Now, with the consent of the users, you distort the faces of a huge library that is randomly shown to you in advance with 6 colored vector points. Then, like other users who distort other groups of faces, you connect them all from the library in a mathematical grid, be it a 3D circle, for example. Now a network of connected faces extends in visual form, like a spider's web. Now you add running numbers from 1 to 0 in the streamline lines that are connected. These move individually towards each other at different speeds. When some numbers come together at random in 256 RGB color mode, since the numbers were previously requested with colored sector points as checkpoints, it can now be calculated which person could be related to each other. This means that the DNA may be connected to each other in a suitable way here. If people behind the distorted faces have found a suitable match through this search algorithm, this AI face DNA procedure can better link people to each other in order to ultimately bring them back to their family tree cycle.

No. 726 Haunted

You, the character named Parasol, must run through a fictitious route from a previously chosen capital city on Earth within a certain time and reach the goal. However, you are prevented from doing so by the thunder god Raiden, who is constantly trying to stop you with the various lightning bolts he fires at you while you are running. You must therefore collect various umbrellas along the route to block the lightning bolts, as each lightning strike will slow you down. You must make sure to complete the route within a certain time, otherwise you will not be able to get to the next capital city and the new routes. You will also be followed by other guests of the game, who will also try to stop you from reaching the goal within the given time. Therefore, try to pick up acceleration items that appear individually along the route and use them so that you are not slowed down by the other players. After a successful run, you leave behind your RunGhost, which is intended as a guideline for other players. It serves to show them that the city and the respective route belong to them. The other players start a pursuit to catch up with your RunGhost and take the route or city areas from you. You must take over at least 50% of the capital cities and the associated routes as the leader in order to emerge as the winner in the week or month of the game. At the end of the month, you will be declared the winner if you have taken more than 50% of the capital cities. As a gift, you will be given the opportunity to go on a virtual shopping tour through one of your conquered capitals and exchange a certain amount of digital money, which you receive individually per month winner, for products in the online shopping shops and have the goods delivered to your home.

No. 727 SparksFly

No. 1 You have to control a cute dragon and fly it to the ground and air, your task is to collect sparks to make your dragon grow

No. 2 In the open world you have to move and follow your radar, which shows you the way to where the elemental sparks are, be careful that trolls don't try to fire you with their slime, which makes your dragon shrink

No. 3 You must first find the various sparks on the ground to make him grow, because only when the growth meter is charged can he level up, increase and grow, only when he reaches a certain level can he also start to move in the air and fly to other areas that you cannot reach on the ground.

No. 4 The aim of this game is to rescue the imprisoned avatars from the trolls' captivity and bring them to their castle, as these are important for the construction of their new castle. In order to get the radar that they must use to find the avatars, they must collect important letters in the open world. Only when they have completely got the alphabet can they activate their avatar search radar for a certain time and use it.

No. 5 Once you have activated the Search Avatar Radar, you must now set out to locate the troll headquarters, attack them with your dragon and free the avatars

No. 6 Once you have freed the required avatars and brought them back to your home, the castle construction can begin
No. 7 Make sure that you have collected enough gold coins during the liberation and that you have found and collected raw materials with your dragon in order to be able to build the castle. The gold coins will ultimately be hidden in the castle. You need them so that the dragon can rest, recharge itself with energy, start further missions and complete required quests that will be required after the castle is built.

No. 8 Make sure that you create your castle against enemy attacks, so that your gold is not stolen, or your castle cannot be destroyed, because the trolls plan to attack again and again to get their gold back and take the avatars into their captivity

No. 9 The aim is to build several castles in order to expand your territory and to be able to settle new dragons that you find in the game there, as there are several dragon babies hidden in the world that you also have to find or free from the clutches of the trolls. Once you have built all 7 dragons and their castles, you can start the attack on the main headquarters or the troll areas in order to ultimately destroy them completely and thus win the game, and then travel to another planet and conquer it there according to this game principle.

No. 728 LastKiss

No. 1 In this new dating application, you have to find enough digital kiss icons in real life to get in touch with singles from all over the world and your surroundings. These kisses can be found, for example, by argument reality in your area of residence or surroundings and can be recorded with your smartphone.

No. 2 In addition, these are integrated into various products in your favorite store and simply need to be scanned in order to add them to your digital collection box

No. 3 If you have collected and found enough kiss icons, you can now use them to contact singles who also have enough kiss icons. Once you have found a certain number of kiss icons, you will receive vouchers for your local restaurant or vouchers for flowers or sweet gifts that you can send to your digital partner if you have got along, or you can invite him or her to the restaurant with you.

No. 4 Using a radar, the application links the singles according to your collected kiss icons and gives you the opportunity to get to know the single woman or man by exchanging messages by viewing pictures, short videos or short descriptions

No. 729 Timeless

No. 1 You have to try with your game character, a critter, to get through different shapes of buildings to the next one. In order to activate the portals for porting, you have to find enough people who are in the buildings in a certain, running time and try to eat them.

No. 2 For each person you eat, you get portal points. Make sure you have enough points in your points account to activate the portal in your building where you were left. Time is running out. People can set off an alarm and thereby activate the police, who will then storm the building in large numbers and give you little chance of stopping you from eating more people. So stay undetected and mysterious until the attack and move from level to level in your building like a ghost and find the people you want to eat in the running time. No. 3 Once you have opened a portal, you go to the next building and, depending on the size of the building, you have to find and eliminate the right people using the radar you have in order to get more points to activate another portal to the next building.

No. 4 Your task is ultimately to clear a certain village or city in a certain country of people and to do so within a certain time. Each cleaned village or city is then marked on your map with a flag and the time it took you to do it. Try, bit by bit, to clear all the countries that are available to choose from in this hack and slay game of people in order to lay your critter eggs there at the end of the process. The idea is that you release your brood and then wait with your critter families until the military arrives and you then lead the fight against the country's military.

No. 5 Conquer the entire earth according to a certain time frame and strategy that you lead and use and clean it of the living people who do not deserve to continue living on this planet as parasites

No.730 Pirateclassicflow

No. 1 In this game, you must try to carry out as many bank robberies as possible on different islands without being detected. Time is running out and you must loot the safe and escape, then escape to a deserted island. Before that, you must raid all the required banks on this world's islands in order to get enough money to build a city on your own purchased island from a village infrastructure.

No. 2 Have you managed to get tourists to settle on your island after you have built your city and decide to stay there, to forge a plan to turn your island into a military world power and to launch an attack on other nearby islands founded by other players and ultimately take them over?

No. 3 The aim of the game is for a small pirate to conquer the whole world and become the king of the pirates and, over time, see anno2020, to colonize individual planets or conquer them and establish further cities and superpowers, with the plan to conquer the entire Milk Galaxy and its planetary system and to make a name for yourself in the universe.

No. 731 Enchanted

No. 1 You must control a wizard named Marcin, whose main task involves first assembling magic words from letters that he finds using a radar in the open world. To activate the radar, the wizard must first collect the energy modules that are hidden in the troll castles in various places in the open world. No. 2 Try to locate the castles and steal the energy modules from the trolls to start searching for letters for your magic book.

No. 3 Once you have located the castles and stolen the energy modules, the search for the letters in the open world begins using the radar. You only have a certain amount of time to use the radar as long as the energy does not run out, so be quick and safe in your hunt for the letters for your magic book.

No. 4 You need this magic book to create magic words with the letters you find and to use them in the further course of the game

No. 5 If you have managed to put together some magic words, or those that were requested, you must make your way back to the castles to pronounce these magic words on the trolls that are in the castles. For example, if you have entered a castle, you must convert the troll or trolls with your magic wand and pronounce the magic word through the microphone. The troll or trolls will then transform into one or more flowers.

No. 6 You must now pick up these flowers and bring them back to your magician's house. There is a garden on your property where you can try to plant these flowers. Once you have planted the required and specified flowers, wait a while to let them grow and then pick them. No. 7 Make sure that your garden is not robbed by trolls. Protect it and the fully grown, valuable flowers that you had previously enchanted with other magical spells in order to use them as a defense against the trolls. No. 8 Once you have survived the attack or several attacks by the mean trolls, you can now pick the magical flowers and put them into your magic machine. Pay attention to the interaction of the individual flowers and put the puzzle that is being sought together in the correct direction.

No. 9 If you have managed to get your magic machine going with the puzzle, the magic machine will create a new player for you, with whom you will then go on new adventures together to get more required flowers and try to ignite other players with whom you will then attack the main castle together at the final goal in order to catch the evil witch Taylor, who is constantly bringing new trolls to life and building new castles, and then finally transform her back into her dearest friend with the magic machine to end the game.

No. 732 ElectricTouch

No. 1 You must try to master the following things in this game: lightning falls from the sky, you react and have to cut it with touch in the air, then raindrops come out of the lightning, which you must then try to catch with a controlled plant pot, at the bottom of the display floor, in order to water your plant

No. 2 If too many lightning bolts fall to the ground, they destroy your plant and the game is lost. Try to stop them and collect the raindrops by moving the plant pot from left to right until it has achieved the required transformation.

No. 3 The game becomes more and more difficult and you have to bring the next plants to the transformation in order to plan and plant them in your garden after the transformation. This is necessary because in your garden trolls are trying to get to the other side of the property to kidnap your princess.

ren

No. 4 In the best defense manner, use the transformed plants with special abilities on your property in a strategic form to stop the various attacks of the trolls and destroy them so that they cannot kidnap your princess, this is fundamentally important, otherwise the game will be considered lost

No. 5 If you manage to fend off the trolls' attack, you will move on to the new level. In the new level, the same game principle applies, but time runs faster and the trolls' attacks increase and the trolls are more difficult to stop with their transformed plants.

No. 733 Wonderland

No. 1 You must try to build a digital wonderland, which means that you have very creative building resources at your disposal. The goal is to earn money from your visitors in order to allow the park to continue to expand from the start.

No. 2 Once you have built your Wonder Land, you can invite other players who have built one themselves and provide them with creative components from your Wonder Land that you have developed

No. 3 If you have built new infrastructures and created new buildings in your Wonder Land with its creative building elements, you can now invite Internet users and companies into your Wonder Land through a visual tour, either via VR glasses or in a newly designed 3D view in the ego perspective, with the aim of reaching them as real customers.

No. 4 The virtual tour is intended to encourage Internet users and companies to offer their products to the masses, which means that you equip your wonderland with digital icons of the products and their prices

No. 5 If you have managed to attract private Internet users and companies who want to offer and sell their products there, normal visitors, i.e. potential buyers, can now be invited through the Wonder Land with the aim of buying these products for display and integration

No. 6 For each item sold in your Wonderland, if products are purchased, you will receive an individual amount of money transferred to your account and can use the money to purchase additional building elements for the creative Wonderland in order to be able to make it even better for buyers in the future.

No. 734 ShakeitOff

No. 1 In this game you have to try to put the colored vectors, which appear on the display in different sizes and shapes, in the right places

No. 2 You have to divide these vectors, for example by tilting the smartphone up, down, right and left

No. 3 Circle vectors are brought into the blank fields by tilting upwards, triangles by tilting downwards, squares by tilting right, rectangles by tilting left of the smartphone

No. 4 For each perfectly placed vector, you get a shakeitoff point, collect as many as required to trigger a shakeitoff on another user while he tries to do the same with the vectors

No. 5 By means of a shakeitoff, you trigger the following with your opponent: you can shake your mobile phone and this causes the vectors of your opponent to multiply and duplicate themselves, which makes the game more difficult for the opponent and serves to make it more difficult for him to find his way around, as the game is timed, one of the players must achieve the most points in the required time in order to win the game, in order to then play against a new challenger at random via the Internet carousel.

No. 735 IcanSeeyou

No. 1 You must try to steal a diamond treasure, which is spread out and lies in the most famous capitals of the world, hidden in individual buildings and is protected by security personnel and alarm systems. No. 2 Try to steal a part of this treasure with your character and your fellow player, the Eye, a raven that you carry on your shoulder. Your fellow player, the Eye, is allowed to look into the buildings if you have collected enough items on the way there and gives you the necessary information in real time to get past the security personnel and the alarm systems using eye scanning perspectives.

No. 3 You have to try to get the diamonds in a certain amount of time in the first selected capital city. Collect enough eye items for your fellow player beforehand to activate the X-ray perspective. In addition, the game action switches, which means that after a certain amount of time, your fellow player can now control the main character and you are now his eye, providing him with the necessary steps and information to get to the diamond treasure.

No. 4 For each stolen diamond treasure you receive points and money, which means that you can use them to get better equipment and weapons, this is important because every new capital you want to visit has increased security, alarm systems and is protected by better trained personnel

No. 5 The aim is to clear out all the capitals with the help of your fellow player, the eye, raven. The fellow player can individually connect to the game and must help you obtain the diamonds. As mentioned, the game switches between the two players, depending on how they agree or what the conditions are on site. Sometimes one can control the raven better, sometimes the other the main character.

No. 6 The aim is to find and steal all the diamond treasures from the capital cities. You have an individual time frame for this if you want to activate it. Otherwise, it's just about getting all the treasures or looting most of them, and then, after the game is over, you can establish your own capital in construction mode, and then try to protect your remaining diamonds in self-defense mode with other players who have also built capital cities.

No.736 FoolishOne

No. 1 In this game you have to try to drag different circles, squares, rectangles, triangles in different colors and sizes to the respective blank fields that appear at the top, bottom, right and left of the display edge, using touch and drag and drop mechanisms.

No. 2 For example, a yellow triangle appears, then you have to look for where the blank field for this shape is, including the correct color. If it appears at the top edge of the display, you now have to touch the triangle that fits exactly and is in the correct color and drag and drop it to the right place in the blank field and release it at the right moment or push it in there. No. 3 The different shapes, circles, squares, rectangles, triangles, with the different colors and sizes, are scattered around the display and have to be placed in the correct blank fields, exactly fitting and color-accurate. For each correctly placed shape with color, you get points, which means that your time account is charged. The game runs on time. For each incorrectly placed shape or color, you get minus points, which are deducted from your time account.

No. 4 In this game, try to distribute all the shapes with the correct size and color into the blank fields and make them disappear without letting the time run out, otherwise the game is considered lost or won when you make them all disappear from the display and have touched or pushed them away in the required time.

No. 5 The shapes are partially on top of each other and are scattered, as can be seen on the display. Push the ones you are looking for correctly onto a free space and then drag and drop them or push the shape you are looking for into the blank field with your finger. You will also receive individual points for each shape you place correctly in one of the various blank fields.
te

No. 6 With these points, if you have collected enough, you can try to unlock more game areas and new tables on which the game takes place, using the points collected, to buy them and ultimately unlock them on the world map. There are enough tables that can be unlocked, and you can also increase the chance of unlocking the levels in multiplayer or compete against other internet players in VS. mode, randomly against each other, and ultimately challenge the best in the world according to the ranking system.

No. 737 Vectorman

No. 1 You control a superman figure, from left to right, through various levels that have barriers and passages. It is important to pick up important colored vector points. The colored vector points mentioned here have the following abilities: the blue one gives you more speed, the red one gives you more resistance, the yellow one lets you float more slowly, the green one makes you invisible, the purple one gives you the opportunity to fire points against enemies that appear, the silver one lets you shrink.

No. 2 These colored vector points are available in different sizes, the larger the colored vector point, the longer you get the special abilities credited and displayed on your special display, the smaller the colored vector points are, the less and faster the special ability expires

No. 3 You have to fly and master these tricky levels from left to right with the Superman in a specified time. If the time runs out, you have to continue flying the level from your checkpoint, if you picked one up, to get to the final destination.

No. 4 The levels are the most famous capitals in the world and there are enough of them to complete in the required time, fly and watch out for the barriers and obstacles that come your way, individual enemy opponents will also appear and come towards you, try to reach the end of the level without making any mistakes and mark your time as a flag for the capital, because in online mode other Internet players will try to beat your time and mark their flag with their own, forcing you to beat the set best time again

No. 738 PimpHomeo

No. 1 In this racing game, you have to try to collect certain car upgrades on the race track, which leads through various connected capital cities, in order to pimp or upgrade your car with these special upgrades after each checkpoint.

No. 2 Without these upgrades, you cannot upgrade and expand your racing vehicle, which you urgently need, because other drivers and opponents prefer the same and try to upgrade their racing vehicle with their upgrades to make it better, stronger and faster to reach the finish line. No. 3 You will be shown informative icons on the racing radar shortly before you see the upgrades, these show you that an upgrade is coming up on the track in front of you, collecting it depends on your speed, which means that you have to be at the correct speed before you can collect the upgrades.

No. 4 Try to get to the checkpoints faster than your opponents and thereby gain points, because each checkpoint must be passed through in a certain and required time so that you can receive a new timeline to participate in the next checkpoint, if you don't manage it when the time runs out, you have to start again from the beginning.

nen

No. 739 BetterthanRevenge

No. 1 In this game you must try to take revenge on the mafia, which you used to work for, because they have erased your thoughts and memories. In the best 3rd or ego perspective, you must try to orient yourself through the most famous capitals, using a radar, to get your memories back.

No. 2 You start the game in one of the capitals and have to go on a quest to regain your memories. To do this, you first have a simple radar, which is expanded further in the game and will receive additional options.

No. 3 If you have found the first memories using items and have been able to collect information, you can now try your hand at tasks and quests to find the next memories. These memories give you the advantage of equipping your character, which you control, with new skills.

No. 4 In the first capital, after successfully gathering information, try to find and eliminate your former enemies and extract more memories from them. You must proceed strategically and acquire an arsenal of weapons before storming the Mafia headquarters in the first capital.

No. 5 Once you have acquired your arsenal of weapons and thought carefully about how you will proceed, try to proceed strategically in order to eliminate the first employees of the mafia. For each mafia member eliminated, you will receive additional memory points credited to your memory account. These are important to complete in order to further equip your character with skills and to remind him of what important skills he had.

No. 6 The difficult thing about the game is that you have a certain amount of time to wipe out the members of the mafia in their headquarters. For each mafia member you kill, you get additional points credited to your time account. You must therefore try to kill at least 85% of the members so that you don't run out of time. Otherwise, new mafia members will keep coming from all directions and try to kill you. If you have managed to meet the percentage requirement, you can continue to search for new memories in the headquarters and areas. After storming the first capital, your radar will receive numerous new functions that will help you to locate the other capitals for memory items.

No. 7 Following this game principle, try to clear the other capitals of the mafia and kill the end bosses in each capital to finally get all of your memories and find out who you were at the end of the game. The game can also only be played in real-time mode and in co-op mode. only be played when they have collected enough memories in the game

No. 740 LongLive

No. 1 In this construction strategy game, you must try to build a village with the help of aliens in order to create a long-lasting humane society with several villages and resulting cities

No. 2 To consider the help of the aliens, you must first find them in the real world, using Argument Reality, and then capture them with your smartphone. The aliens you find and capture will give you the necessary technology and help you build your civilization.

No. 3 If you have built your village and, with the help of the aliens, brought it to the point where it can be transformed technologically, then your village will transform into a city and you can now accommodate more residents and conduct better trade with other villages and cities in your area.

No. 4 Protect your civilization from hostile monsters and trolls by building a huge and protected facility around your villages and cities, because the enemy troops are your opponents who have chosen the evil side and are trying to destroy you

No. 5 If you have built up a powerful empire, you can also launch a daring counterattack and try to cross the enemy lines to kidnap the enemy's alien followers and take them home and transform them so that they can help you secure the enemy's technology for your benefit.

No. 6 If the enemy troops kidnap some aliens from their headquarters, the technology display slowly disappears, which means that as time runs out, their cities revert to villages and their technology buildings regress one level or, depending on the time, further levels, and they are back at the beginning of the game, making them easier to attack than before in the higher technology development. As an alibi, they can go back to looking for aliens in the real world in order to turn their village back into a city with the help of the aliens and use the associated technological possibilities to launch a counterattack against the monsters and trolls at the end.

No. 7 In your counterattack, try to wear down the opposing players, in this case the monster or troll races, and wait for the right moment to kidnap the elemental, important alien beings from them and, in the end, build an army with the technology of the opposing players in order to ultimately carry out the final counterattack against the enemy, in order to then capture or destroy him at individual time intervals.

No. 741 Mean&Mine

No. 1 In this game you have to try to place mines in the labyrinth so that the snake is guided in the right direction by activating the mines. The aim of the game is for the snake to get out of the labyrinth and be teleported through a portal to the next level. The game is timed. If the snake does not manage to get into the portal in the required time, you have to start the level again from the beginning.

No. 2 The snake picks up a number of different mines with different abilities on its way through the labyrinth, which means that some mines are only intended for special corridors and others break down the barriers of the labyrinth, others cause a hole and are switched through the hole to another one, other mines can be activated by a timer, others have a higher explosive force and others have a lower explosive force to ensure the snake's path. No. 3 Try to place the mines in real time so that your snake can get through the labyrinth to the portal, of course, as the time runs out and the required time is specified, the time expires, so you have to play the level again, if you manage to blast the snake's path with the mines and lead it into the portal within the required time, the level is passed and you can now start a new level with the snake, of course the labyrinth and the pattern look different and the required time is individual to the pattern of the labyrinths adapted

No. 742 OurWheel

No. 1 In this racing game, you have to try to collect drift points with your vehicle while driving. For each slide you get OG points added to your drive, which is based on a certain time or ranking.

No. 2 To perform a drift, you must collect the necessary colored vector points depending on the track or curve, green for short drifts, blue for medium drifts and red for long drifts, in order to perform a short, medium or long drift.

To activate No.

3 You will also receive OG points for a good time and for the rank you achieve at the end of the race. Also, try to use the OG points you have collected to equip yourself with weapon systems for the next race in order to prevent your opponents from reaching the top ranks or placements.

No. 4 You will race with 18 opposing cars in various capital cities and surrounding areas and outside of town. Always try to get into the points ranking, this starts from 6th place, because after a few races you must have collected enough OG points to be allowed to start in the next race.

No. 5 The goal is to be among the top 3 at the end of all races in order to unlock new vehicles and new tracks for the game. In addition, once you have unlocked enough vehicles, you can swap them with other users from the game or exchange them for OG points.

No. 6 If you have collected enough OG points and your fleet has grown accordingly, you can use the OG points to try to design your own tour in the AI route construction mode and make it available to other users. Otherwise, other users can build their own routes and invite them to take part in them with them and other players in order to collect or lose OG points again.

No. 7 The person who has collected the most OG points at the end of the month and is in first place in the points rankings will have Matchbox cars that they have never driven before delivered to their home. These can then be scanned via QR scan when they turn them over at home and integrated into the game, thus expanding their own fleet and can in turn exchange them for other rare cars or tracks or arrange a switch between the participants in the game.

No. 743 NeverGrowUp

No. 1 You must try to transform your character into a giant, which means that you must find important growth icons and items in the game so that your character, in this case a dinosaur of the genus Diplokotokus, can grow and thrive

No. 2 These items, in this game, are colored vector points in different colors and sizes and are hidden in the capitals of this world, can be found in buildings and in any environment, using a time radar you can and must find them in order to let your dinosaur grow and thrive

No. 3 The aim is to let the dinosaur grow so that it has enough strength and power to reduce the capital, including its buildings and shops or streets, to rubble and ashes. Dinosaur eggs are hidden in the buildings and houses, which you must find in order to get more dinosaurs.

No. 4 They are fueled by humans and the military and prevented from finding their dinosaur eggs, they first try to eliminate the humans and the military so that they have a free path to destroy the capital, in this case Tokyo, with their dinosaurs

No. 5 If you have found your dinosaur eggs and reduced the city to rubble, you must now try to devastate the next city in the country. You will receive points for this. The game ends after a set time and you must try to destroy the right places or buildings in order to get to the dinosaur eggs.

No. 6 You only have a certain amount of time to find the dinosaur eggs, so try to strategically and with luck to devastate the city so that you get enough points to activate the egg search radar, with the radar you can find the eggs faster and then move on to the next city

No. 7 If you have devastated all the cities in the country within the required time and found the required dinosaur eggs, you must bring them to your island and try to hatch them there. With the destruction points you have collected, you can hatch your individual egg.

No. 8 In the next section, your journey now takes you to another country, where you again try to find dinosaur eggs with your newborn dino, this time a different species, pay attention to the time and the people.

The incoming military who want to stop you from finding those eggs and ultimately taking your dinosaur into captivity

No. 9 In multiplayer mode you will meet other dinosaurs and have to stop them from destroying your city in order to get to the dinosaur eggs, so collect the colored vector points quickly to make your dinosaur grow so that it gets power and strength, there are also hidden weapon icons lying around in the cities, these give you additional power and abilities to stand up to the other dinosaurs

No. 744 Throwback

No.745 IGOR

No. 1 The central control module for the SMS messenger system Ruprawbrin is a hedgehog called Igor, he serves as a user interface, like a Tamagotchi, which has to be fed with new content through new incoming SMS multimedia content, he is controlled by the SWIP Show width Interface Protocol, which is operated with one tap, double tap, triple tap, quad tap, five tap, six tap to call up information if you prefer the hedgehog, Igor, rather than dealing with icons and file folders and using them to control the data.

No. 2 Igor never stops learning, he assigns a specific category to each tap and then opens the incoming multimedia data from the SMS and presents it, which he also saves in the cloud for the future, on your mobile phone's home screen for quick and orderly orientation and presentation, tailored to your needs, which are aligned according to your eye scan, using a finger scan and the duration of the press event, the database, i.e. your memory, is searched for the multimedia data and, using bling polyphony, it is made aware of which data you want to open by tapping.

No. 3 Igor is used for a clear schematic representation of your collected data, your incoming SMS with tap technology, in order to understand the structure, which can also be found with small taps on a mobile phone, assign the hedgehog a colored color from the RGB color spectrum to transform it, in order to switch with large amounts of data that you receive, clearly and clearly displayed, in order to get an overview of the stored data, which is mirrored by stream from the cloud in real time, in addition, the hedgehog sings in polyphonic ringtones and saves tones created on the levels of the sound, also data packets that only need to be opened by finger scan and your voice vocals, these data packets serve for absolute security and are kept strictly secret, for example account number data and personal passwords or complete email addresses that you need for other companies in order to be able to log in on an old basis

No. 746 RupRawbrin

No. 1 You must try to create a rollercoaster park and use the streamline technology for construction, which means that

You can link individual roller coasters together and pull them together in a network with switches and start positions

No. 2 Build your park according to your imagination based on your own Streamline technology infrastructure and use magic colors from the CMYK color spectrum to maintain orientation during the construction phase and create a bond between the rollercoasters

No. 3 Once you have created your park and think you have finished it, let numbers run through at the start of each roller coaster, from 1 to 0 and from 0 to 1 (1 to 9 vlt), each number has a certain speed and can overtake the other number on the track and reach the destination faster or slower

No. 4 Start this race of numbers on every roller coaster you have constructed, the system streams the speeds and overtaking of the numbers that start and finish in different sizes and shapes, as well as colors, and transmits this to the system, which ultimately serves as the security system of the messenger Ruprawbrin

No. 5 Ruprawbrin serves as the SMS variant of the future and sends your data as encrypted data swip packets to the person who can receive this data. The highlight is that this SMS variant expresses its preferences through its self-checked AI, which may be compiled from the security system, and assigns its questions to its recipient. The recipient can only receive the data if he wants to send back the specific answer to his question with a confirmation SMS. The collected answers should benefit the AI library and make the program smarter.

No. 6 If you plan to send multimedia data via SMS, the data packets will be compressed by the encryption system of your park, which you have designed and tested, so that they use very little memory

No. 7 The acceptance of this data is then presented in a new quality level for the recipient and is factual and informative, very compressed, very easy to understand and for illiterate people, very readable and bring them with these shortcut moves easier to think about in order to understand it

No. 747 TschoBlade

No. 1 To use TschoBlade, aka Avatar Blade, from the well-known film Blade+, as a messenger, you have to hunt vampires in the Street View of Yandex Earth and use the following function to reset them, they will ask you questions about the ones you set at the capture point where you caught the vampire, colored vector points on the places that interest you or pin these pins to the places in the area. No. 2 If the vampire answers the questions correctly, he will be transformed back, if he doesn't answer you you can let him go on and he can continue to cause mischief through the Street View of Yandex Earth

No. 3 The information about the locations and the correctly asked questions is absorbed by your avatar Blade in his brain, you have to give him an artificial intelligence before you use him as a messenger in your messenger, which is an argument reality room, hunt and ask enough vampires about the places where you met the vampire and place them at certain places in the visual view, using colored vector points, your questions about the individual parts that you have set with the colored vector points and hope to have them answered by the vampire.

No. 4 If you have found enough vampires and asked them questions, as mentioned above, Avatar Blade can transport the correctly answered and the set questions into his brain as artificial intelligence. You must charge the artificial intelligence energy display of your avatar to a maximum of 100% so that you can exchange the collected data of the day with other avatars for a small fee, Blade, your avatar as a TschoBlade messenger with other Blade avatars, which also contain a full energy display for contact understanding and connection of several collected artificial intelligences, in a so-called community room, which is freely available through the TschoBlade messenger. This means, for example, that I transfer a certain percentage of his collected artificial intelligence to him for a small fee via Yandex Pay in order to feed my Blade avatar with new information so that his library of artificial intelligence is increased.

No. 5 Have you charged Blade, your avatar, from your messenger Tscho-Blade, as it is constantly being requested for artificial energy by other users in real time for a fee and you do not want to pass this on at the moment, or make it available to other Blade avatars for a fixed amount of time and in a small form

No. 6 So, once your blade is finally charged with artificial intelligence, it can use the function of Ronczka, see app in the SidAntre Gallery, and you can control the functions of ronczka, now through your own blade avatar, and then exchange information with other TschoBlade Messenger users in a protected and securely encrypted manner.

No. 748 Phenomenon

No. 1 You must try to put together a building according to the instructions or individuality and construction format, with letters and their colored vector points. No. 2 Try to build the building in a specified time using the 6 colored vector points, which can vary depending on the number of pieces per letter. No. 3 Meanwhile, your opponent tries to do the same. If your building is finished or the time has run out, you can now go to the opponent's central building and try to steal the colored vector points of the letters. Meanwhile, your opponent is in their headquarters and tries to do the same in a running time. No. 4 If the specified time has run out, you and your team (6-8 players) must go back to your headquarters and see whether your building is still standing or has become vulnerable. If the building has fallen apart because the colored vector points of the letters have been taken in large quantities, you lose the game. If it is vulnerable, use the stolen colored vector points of the opponent and place them in the missing places, your opponent must do the same to prevent the building from collapsing and thus ending the game for the round

No. 5 In another creative way of playing, try to build individual buildings using the letters and their colored vector points, see creative Minecraft, and build yourself a town or village with them and show it off. In some tasks, you are even given the opportunity to recreate a real building or village with houses. You receive points for this. The one who reaches this goal faster goes into the next construction round against other players from the Internet as the winning team. No. 6 Once you have built your building or house for the village or town, you can even hide amounts of money in these construction formats as digital coins. It's about challenging an opponent in a bet to offer him to find a certain amount of coins, of course within a given time. If the opponent doesn't manage it, he gives you back the negotiated value of the hidden coin amount in real money that he didn't find. If he does manage to find all the coins, he gets the coin amount as real money value as a win. hand over

No.749 RouletteDoor

No. 1 To get to know a single person, you simply need to use the Roulette Door, which means that you have a selection of 37 singles who can be randomly selected by the Roulette ball. The trick is that when a ball lands on an individual number, a single woman or man is hiding behind the hidden number, with a hidden face. No. 2 To get in touch with the single person, you need to walk a real distance using the number in a certain time. For example, if I hit the number 13 with the ball, I have to walk 13 km to unlock the face. If you want to uncover the face, you have to cover this distance in the time given to the single person in order to be able to see the face.

No. 3 You have to negotiate this route with the single person on a negotiation basis, how long it will take you to do it, it can be 1 day, a few hours, 1 week, you have to have your mobile phone with you at all times to measure the length of the route with the app

No. 4 If, for example, you have managed to complete the 13 km in 3 hours, the single's face will now appear. The single must then cover the same distance to unlock their face. This connection is based on mutual trust in movement mode. If you manage to complete the time faster, the app will give you digital hearts that are stored in a door. Collect enough hearts to exchange them for vouchers for a romantic meal or a wonderful present to impress your single.

No. 5 If you have unlocked the face on both sides, you can contact the person and communicate with them online via App Messenger, with image, video, text, voice exchange formats

No. 751 MegaDuck

No. 1 This game is played by two players against each other in massive multiplayer, which means that a given distance has to be covered with MegaDuck, for example 130m. One player controls the MegaDuck by tapping and clicking on MegaDuck so that it can fly high. MegaDuck flies unpredictably, which means that you have to keep it in the air so that it doesn't fall to the ground. The other player places obstacles, individual bars of different sizes, into the level by touching, dragging and dropping to prevent MegaDuck from reaching the goal in order to conquer the given 130m.

No. 2 If one player has conquered the 130m with MegaDuck, another 2 new players automatically join in, in this example of Team Germany and Team USA, and the player controlling the MegaDuck, in this case Team USA, unlocks a new route target meter direction, this applies until MegaDuck is not stopped by an obstacle.

No. 3 Team Germany has a certain number of obstacle bars for the route guidance, where MegaDuck, guided by Team USA, to prevent him from getting to the next meter check-point, the game ends when MegaDuck is stopped by Team Germany, through the bar obstacles mentioned here, which are used by touch drag and drop, which are placed from above and below

No. 4 The aim is to guide the MegaDuck as far as possible through the meter track and not to drive it against the bars. The winner is the one who has covered the most meters, plus, each meter is counted in euros or US dollars. The team that can guide the MegaDuck the furthest wins the prize, namely the amount of money that the other team has to pay for the meters covered by the MegaDuck.

No. 752 GoldStap

No. 1 You have to try to bring together colored gold bars using touch, which means that you have to build a stack, this stack is transparent and only the outlines of the gold bars on the stack are visible

No. 2 Now you have to swy-pe the right gold bars from above, below, left and right into the transparent gold bars of the stack so that the transparent gold bar becomes active and can be placed

No. 3 your goal is to reach a certain height or to achieve a higher stack height than your opponent, namely your internet opponent, if you do not place a gold bar in the correct color, it will not be activated and you must therefore choose a new one from the directions that should match the color of the transparent gold bar required

No. 4 For each correctly placed colored gold bar in the blank banners, you will receive time points that are important so that you can continue to follow the game. When time runs out, the height is finally measured and the person who has reached the highest height moves to the new level or is assigned a new opponent from the Internet carousel.

No. 753 BallinMove

No. 1 You must try to jump on colored balls in a bird's eye perspective using finger control, left, right, up, down and diagonally, which are shown on a scoreboard, in order to get points. If you jump on a ball that is not on the scoreboard, you will not get any points. No. 2 The game runs from bottom to top in a bird's eye perspective and gets faster and faster. The aim is to reach a required number of points in order to get to the next level. No. 3 If you manage to jump on 3 red balls in a row, for example, you get a combo and therefore more points, or on 5 yellow or 4 green or 2 blue balls. The combo is limited to a maximum of 5 colored balls in a row, but gives more points to complete the game faster. No. 4 Try to control the current game from ball to ball with your finger. If you jump on a ball that is not required, you will not get any points, or if you jump on an empty field, you will have to start over and restart the game.

No. 754 BirdFish

No. 1 You have to try to color-link different colored birds that are in the air and flying around in order to create a giant bird. With this giant bird, if you have managed to form it, you must then try to catch flying fish with your beak and its tongue, which can be extended.

No. 2 Try to catch as many fish of different sizes and shapes as possible to get more energy, because the bird needs this energy in order not to transform back, make sure that the giant bird stays in the air and navigate it with a touch click through the display, the giant bird must not touch the edges of the display, otherwise energy will be taken away from the life display, if this giant bird loses all its energy reserves, it will also transform back, you can move back a maximum of 3 times, after that the game is lost No. 3 You must try to catch all the fish on the display using the drag and drop method, aim the tongue and let go of the tongue at the fish and pull them into the giant bird's mouth, if you have caught all the fish, the level is won, in the next levels more fish appear and it will be more difficult to transform the bird into a giant bird, you also get individual times for each fish caught depending on the type and size, make sure you get these so that the regular time does not expire

No. 755 TrainBlow

No. 1 You have to try to control a train, which drives in a bird's eye view from bottom to top, you have to change the tracks and avoid obstacles, there are also power ups items that allow you to equip your train with special abilities

No. 2 These power ups items allow you to make the train either narrower, faster, stronger, more agile, transparent, more robust, wider, use these power items to play the game better and gain an advantage

No. 3 The aim is to pick up passengers at each checkpoint and drop them off at their stop. You get points for this. The game is timed. Try to get new points + by dropping off passengers in order to be able to continue playing the game in the future. If the time runs out and you have not picked up all the passengers in the level and taken them to their stops, the level is lost and you have to start the level again from the beginning. No. 4 Obstacles and barriers appear from level to level. You have to avoid these by changing tracks and remember to pay attention to your energy bars. You have to pick up fuel items while driving in order to keep your train moving. If the train stops, the game is lost and you have to start the level again from the beginning.

No. 5 Use swyp to change the sides of the tracks and transport the train bit by bit to their destinations, collect all the passengers and make sure to drop them off at their stops within the required time in order to receive time bonuses and to be able to continue playing the game with your train.

No. 756 TermiFruit

No. 1 You must try to hit different colored fruits with a different colored laser beam from your eye, which is in a bird's eye view and in the middle of the display, in order to chop them up or take them out of the display. No. 2 Fruits in individual colors fall from all sides of the display, whether from above, below, left, right, diagonally and the corners, and are attracted to the eye. You must not let the fruits touch the eye, as this drains their life energy. Always keep their life energy alive. No. 3 You must double-tap the eye, select the right laser color and use your selected colored laser beam to move the fruits out of the display in a 360 radius or chop them up so small that they disappear into thin air.

No. 4 For each fruit removed, you receive points and for each fruit cut up, you receive time bonuses+ that are credited to your time account. No. 5 Try not to let your time account run out and remove all the fruit from the display before the time runs out.

No. 6 The eye, which is in the middle of the display, can be rotated in a 360 degree radius and, if held for a longer period, shoots a stronger laser weapon beam in order to cut up the fruit better.

No. 7 Make sure that you do not always choose the same color, because the fruits are attracted to the selected color of the laser beam or eye more quickly, so change the color of the laser beam individually and terminate the fruits from the display or transport them out.

No. 757 CarCat

No. 1 You have to try to navigate a cat across a street, from a bird's perspective, you have to lead the cat across the street while there is moving traffic, while you have to be careful not to get hit by a moving car or bicycle

No. 2 On the way to the other side of the street, you have to try to collect mice, these give you points, you have to reach a given point value or a number of mice and lead them across the street, a mouse tail is created which you have to maneuver on the street in order to get to the other side of the street.

No. 3 You have a life indicator, if you are hit and bumped by a car or bicycle 3 times, you lose the game and have to start the level again.

No. 4 In addition, the mice that appear individually must be caught in a certain order, which means that the mice have numbers and must be collected or caught in the numbered order

No. 5 For example, if you have 3 mice together in the first level in the order shown, the number of mice per level will add up. There are a total of 99 levels to complete, so around 100 mice that have to be caught or collected in the last level to ultimately win the game.

No. 6 In multiplayer mode, up to 3 players can simultaneously hunt mice and try to transport the mice they collect to the opposite side of the street

No. 7 There are also power items that help you improve the mice or yourself, they give you the ability to maneuver through the streets faster, slower, smaller, bigger, more agile, stronger, invisible, indestructible

No. 8 Time is also running and you only have a certain amount of time to catch the mice and transport them to the other side of the street. Like in Snake, you collect the mice and form a mouse tail that you have to drag behind you. If a car catches the mouse tail, you have to turn around and tie the missing mice back to you in order to reach the required number or amount of points that is given to you.

No. 758 Fingerplag

No. 759 BugGlow

No. 1 In this game, you try to unmask beetles that briefly light up using a colored LED flashlight. This means that a beetle on the screen briefly lights up in an individual color and you then try to make it visible using the same color with the LED flashlight.

No. 2 If you have made the beetle visible, you must now crush it with the hammer, which means that the beetle is now visible, running through the screen and you must now catch it before it becomes invisible again

No. 3 You must try to make all invisible beetles visible and knock them down or crush them with the hammer so that they receive + points. The game is timed and you try to kill or destroy all the beetles on the screen that you have made visible within a set time limit.

No. 4 If the time runs out and there are still some beetles on the screen, you will lose points for each beetle. If there are any left, you can take them over to the new level. If the time goes into the minus, the game is lost.

No.760 Mr.X

No. 1 You will see X symbols on the entire display in a form, on a display board you will be shown which illuminated X, which is briefly visible in an individual color, you have to tap so that it is activated

No. 2 First try to activate many Xs that light up in one color by tapping them. For example, if you have tapped 10 yellow Xs, they are now visible. The display board tells you the number you have to activate.

No. 3 Now pull a yellow X together with another yellow X until you have connected all 10, now these activated Xs disappear and make the display clearer, now you have to activate the other colors and make them disappear, it can happen that the display board gives you several color combinations, i.e. different colors that follow one another, so be careful and don't make a typo or pull them together in the required order so that they are no longer visible from the display

No. 4 The game is timed, you get + points for each color and color combination you have drawn together, you get - points for each color or combination that is incorrectly drawn together that is required by the scoreboard, try to make all the suggested color X constellations disappear from the scoreboard within the required time

No. 5 Level to level the requirements become more difficult and you have to fulfill many more combinations in the running

No.761 LoadBug

No.1 You must try to do the following in this game: you control a marine beetle and must collect colored dots, red, yellow, blue, green. These dots are used by the marine beetle to collect them and carry them on its back. These dots serve as an activated special ability and can be activated and used against the enemy insects after they have been collected. No.2 You must collect 4 red dots to unlock a new function for the marine beetle. This means that when the marine beetle has collected 4 red dots, it can shoot 4 fireballs on its own.

If he collects 4 yellow points, he can fire 4 lightning balls, if he collects 4 blue points, he can fire 4 water balls, if he collects 4 green points, he can fire 4 ice balls at the individual insects they are trying to destroy

No.3 Each insect must be individually fired up with the respective special abilities in order to destroy it or to remove it from the display. New insects appear from all corners of the display, initially 4 different shapes, which you try to destroy with the 4 different special abilities.

No.4 Collect plenty of colored dots on the screen and fire the marine beetle at the colored insects required, these can spread, if two insects of the same color link up, they multiply and reproduce, so make sure that they do not come near each other and fire at them No.5 There are also obstacles and barriers that prevent you from catching and destroying the insects, pay attention to the fact that some individual insects give you + or time back by destroying them, you have to remove all insects from the display and free the display in the required time, pay attention to the time running out, if you perform a combo and, for example, hit 3 required colored insects in the color order, you will have 2 marine beetles at your disposal for a short time, which can eliminate all insects with its special ability

No. 762 LaserDrop

No. 1 In this game you try to complete the following tasks using drag and drop, which means that you have to catch vector points in colored form with a laser beam

No. 2 Different shapes and colors of the vector points light up, you must now link a point or a shape with the same color and shape together, that means, for example, you connect a point in red with a point in red by dragging it onto it

No. 3 Now the two are linked together and you must now connect other shapes that lie and stand in a unit. For example, if you have linked 3 dots, 3 squares, 3 triangles and 3 rectangles together, you now have a laser beam that consists of 12 shapes.

No. 4 The aim is now to use the shapes and place them in the right places, which means that you have to sneak around barriers and obstacles with your laser beam of 12 shapes, for example to bring the squares into the required blank fields

No. 5 If you have placed the squares with your self-formed laser beam from the shape vectors, you will receive points for this, now you have to guide the other shapes of your laser beam to the blank fields in order to place it completely with the shapes

No. 6 You have a required number of vector shapes that you must then fulfill, in this example, it was 12 shapes, in the next specification maybe 6 or 20, that is what the scoreboard shows, for each correctly placed vector shape, you get points

No. 7 The game is played with 3 players, the one who first gives all the required form vectors and their number of pieces to the blank fields and makes them disappear and reaches the specified number of points before the other player, wins the level and moves on to a new one.

No. 763 HoodBall

No. 1 You must try to establish a hood, in this hood you build a defense facility to be prepared for the impending attack of the enemy

No. 2 The Hood consists of barriers and obstacles, made of different materials, they have a certain amount of time to work with these materials and build them in such a way that they can withstand an attack

No. 3 The hood consists of squares, rectangles, triangles and circles, which are made of different and individual materials

No. 4 If you have built your hood, you must wait for the enemy to attack. He will try to shoot at your position using his own weapon systems, for example the circle, square, rectangle, triangle weapon. This means that in the ego perspective he will try to snatch or take away your shapes from the position. He will try to absorb or destroy the various shapes of the circles, squares, rectangles, triangles in order to destabilize the position you had built and to get inside the position.

No. 5 Within the position are balls that he then tries to take and bring to his headquarters, their goal is to set up the position in such a way that he can take or snatch the least number of balls, again they may try to penetrate into their own headquarters according to the same principle as the opponent and, according to the procedure described here, steal the individual balls in order to bring them to their headquarters

No. 6 Try to have a higher number of balls before the time runs out in order to force them to exchange for new materials. The more balls you steal, the more materials you can exchange for the stolen balls to expand your position in the hood with barriers and obstacles. The one who has no more balls at the end before the time runs out loses the game.

No. 764 VertiDialog

No. 1 In this game you have to try to swipe balls that appear from the corners of the screen out of the screen again using one finger. This means that when a ball is thrown from a corner in an individual direction, you try to swipe it in the required direction of the display, i.e. out of the screen. There are small, medium, large and colored balls that have to be thrown in the directions of the screen according to the correct color and size.

No. 2 Try to get all the balls out of the screen in the required time and to clear the screen of the balls. If you have done that, switch the side of the game, which means that the game is a square and after successfully clearing the balls, you now have to play on a new side of the square. Be careful that by turning the sides of the square, new balls do not fall through the corners to other sides. You have to switch the square, i.e. the game board, and try to clear all sides of the balls. The sides are to be seen as a cube shape from the top, bottom, left and right of the square.

No. 765 Snahi

No.1 In this game you try to catch colored lines so that your snake grows upwards, that is, the more colored lines you have collected from the display board that are being searched for, the higher the snake grows in the air

No.2 Try to collect as many colored lines as possible. If you have achieved the required number, the snake will grow in height and you can climb to a new level.

No.3 Be careful of the enemies that are on the screen, because every collision reduces the height of your snake and means that you cannot reach the next higher level

No.4 The aim is to climb to the highest level and grab as many colored lines as possible, watch out for the barriers and obstacles, because a collision reduces the height of the snake, which means that if it is on level 3, by hitting an opponent or obstacle, this ultimately causes the minimization of the height and the drop back to level 2 and so on from then on.

No.5 You can collect individual power items and give the snake special abilities to keep the enemies and obstacles on the display at bay or to destroy them and clear them out of the way. The snake moves faster and faster after each required collection of the colored lines and it will not be so easy to cope with the speed in the future.

No. 766 Wzoplag

No. 1 They are trying to integrate the following new methods of fun into this digital poker variant, which means that every player, during his turn, gets to see a live broadcast of his own face in the avatar

No. 2 In addition, the avatar is surrounded by a rotating carousel with a circular glid, which then randomly generates a bet amount if the time for placing the bet runs out

No. 3 Furthermore, there are also one or more Switch cards in the carousel that can improve or worsen your own hand

No. 4 In addition, a viewer from YouTube can join the Glid Avatar circle and then start, run or finish the poker round with his real-time transferred money

No. 5 Furthermore, when it is your turn, another poker player at the table can throw a dart at the circle slide and take the amount you have to bet in advance. No. 6 It is also possible to multiply by pushing up so that the bank invests around 50% of the amount if you manage to push the amount up to the highest level, as in Book of Rah.

No. 767 Axtnution

No. 1 You must try to fulfill the following things in this game, that is, you must use an axe to try to chop up different and individual in size appearing peanuts so that they are ground and scattered on the screen

No. 2 After dismemberment, the peanut remains are visible on the screen in different directions and are scattered around, now, if you have dismembered enough peanuts, you must unlock the coat's trunk, this happens when you grind all the peanuts in different sizes to suck up the dismembered pieces that are on the screen to clean the display, for each cleaning of the display you get time + to do a new cleaning, you need time and patience to clean the display of the peanut pieces and finally free it

No. 3 In addition, barriers and obstacles and enemies that appear are shown on the display. You can also clear these out of the way with the axe, then use the trunk to get a free space, suck up the remaining peanut pieces, collect all the pieces of the chopped peanuts and clean the display 3 times in a row to get bonus points for it, use these bonus points to unlock new levels in the future in a more difficult mode.

No. 768 BadDrop

No. 1 You try to fulfill the following instructions in this drag and drop game, you have to pick up or drop a ball with your finger and try to place this ball on another ball that has the same color and size

No. 2 The balls placed are stacked on top of each other until they reach a certain number, which means that when the number is reached, the balls can be guided like a snake, with the colored and individual balls you move as a snake and must try to guide this snake to a place to put it down, you get points for each ball placed, make sure that you are not hit by the enemy harpoon and a ball is deducted from you

No. 3 The game is played with 3 players, the one who has generated the most points after the time runs out wins the game and moves on to the next battle, there are differences between the drop-off locations, this means that when you have generated the two balls together to form a stack, you must make sure to place the first and the following balls in the required drop-off locations

No. 769 Wall of Puppets

No. 1 In this game you try to control a game board made up of 13 figures. In this example, the figures are horror figures from the film industry. When these figures face each other, they have special abilities that you can use to damage the opposing figure.

No. 2 The game board has individual areas. If you roll a number between 1 and 6, the figure moves, depending on the number rolled, either to the left, right, up, down or diagonally. If one figure hits another, a fight ensues. While you are playing the game board, you can collect special weapon icons to then use in battle. Watch out for barriers and obstacles or traps where the figure can be put in danger. No. 3 The aim is to get a figure to the other side of the game board and try to destroy all of the opponent's figures. If you have managed to get a figure to the other side, i.e. the opponent's side, more quickly, you can build a wall in the next step and thus prevent the opposing enemy from getting to your side of the game board. For each player you approach, place a piece of wall on the opposing side, thereby compacting the playing field and providing protection for your other figures. still in the game, every piece that makes it to the other side is then placed back on their side, so at the beginning of the game board from their point of view

No. 770 Sunipoup

No.1 In this game you must try to catch enough flying suns in different colors and shapes that move on the screen. The catching is simulated by the drag and drop function, which means that you must touch the moving and flying sun shapes in order to then transfer them to the sun machine via drag and drop.

No. 2 The sun machine is designed to use a targeted laser beam to bombard the plants on the display with the colored sunbeams for the respective colored plant species, making them thrive. They also need water drops that lead to the growth of the plant. You get these water drops by correctly collecting the sun for the sun machine. For every sun you collect, you get a water drop, which you then try to distribute to the plants using the water hose.

No.3 According to the required scoreboard, try to grow conditional plant species in the order in which they are displayed. You will receive points for each plant that has grown. The game is timed and you must therefore reach the specified number of points in the specified time in order to unlock the next more difficult level.

No.4 In the following levels, you can and must harvest the plant species using double touch. For the harvest you receive special points, which you need in the level break to give your plants special defense abilities in exchange for the points. You need these special defense abilities in an extraordinary form in the bonus levels, where hostile insects try to destroy your plants. Use the special abilities strategically to protect your plants from the invading insects and ultimately destroy them with the weapon systems from the defense to receive bonus points.

No. 771 StickBall

No.1 In this game, where there is a line and on the tip of which there is a colored vector point, you must try to use your finger as a sparrow slingshot to shoot the vector point into a given free colored field where there is another line in order to pick up the colored vector point on the tip of the line.

No.2 With this finger skills and precise game, try to master a required course that is given to you, bit by bit, paying attention to the weather adversities and the wind, which can affect the tee shot from the first and the following vector point

No.3 This is how you throw the colored vector point into the correctly positioned colored area, where there is another line that picks up the colored vector point and changes its color depending on which colored area it landed on, which you then use to reach the distance that is required using the same principle.

No.4 The route that must be mastered must be completed in a given coloured order, otherwise there will be - time point deductions, the game is timed, do not let the time run out and for each correctly hit line with its tip on the correctly given coloured field, + time will be added to your account, if the time runs out, the game is considered lost, depending on how far you had mastered your given route

No. 772 SnookBall

No.1 In this game you must try to consider a snooker table as a playing surface, you must hit the other balls so that they connect with each other with the correct color and then dissolve, new colored balls keep appearing from the snooker pockets, try to hit the emerging colored balls with the white ball so that they meet with a different, but with the same color, ball, connect and thus ultimately dissolve

No.2 For linking the same coloured balls you get points which are added to your score. Collect as many points as required to prevent new balls from coming out of the 6 different pockets and refilling the playing area again and again.

No.3 In addition, the game is timed. For each correct colored ball connection, you receive points + which are credited to your time credit account. If you hit a colored ball with the white ball that is not connected to one of the same color, or

If you trigger this, you will receive points in time that will be deducted from your time account. Your goal is to clear all the required balls in a certain time in order to get to the next level.

No. 773 Shapeshift

No.1 In this game you must try to put together a line of the same shapes in the best Tetris style using the shapes mentioned here, triangle, square, circle, rectangle, so that the line dissolves, you control the shapes that come from the top of the display and from the 4 different corners of the screen into the middle of the display and try to link them together, in order to then dissolve them after the link, see tetris

No.2 Up to 6 shapes can be linked together in the same color, they must lie on top of each other and be put together in the same shape, you will be awarded points for each dissolved shape in the combination according to color and shape, try to collect enough points to trigger a shapeshift, if you have collected enough points to be able to trigger a shapeshift, then use this bonus, this means that all the shapes are dissolved and your general shape disappears from the display to ensure space for new links of the upcoming new shapes

No.3 You also have to activate 3 shape shifts in a specified time to get to the next level, so collect lots of points by connecting the shapes in the correct order, on top of each other and next to each other, unlike Tetris, your general shape group is in the middle, the other shapes come from the left, right, top and bottom, into the middle, so you have to control the shapes from the 4 different directions in multi-task and attach them to the other shapes in order to dissolve them in the connection.

No. 774 Shakedown

No.1 In this game, you try to perform a shakedown, which means that you have to stop various snakes in different and individual shapes and colors and sizes that are on the display or screen, trying to multiply, using the shakedown and finally destroying them or scaring them away from the edge of the screen.

No.2 To trigger a shakedown, you must have reached enough points beforehand. To get points, you must fire a harpoon at the snakes, which also multiply individually on the display, and try to bring them to a standstill. If you have fired several snakes and brought them to a standstill, you will be credited with points. If you have reached a certain number of points, you will receive the shakedown bonus. With this you can switch off the snakes that have been brought to a standstill. All you have to do is shake the phone in the directions or navigate so that the snakes fall out of the edge of the display and no longer appear. Try to use several shakedowns to remove all the snakes from the screen.

No.3 Make sure that the snakes do not multiply too much while you are trying to use the harpoon to move them while they are still, because if that happens, a shakedown cannot be triggered, as the screen will be blocked or multiplied by the number of snakes that have multiplied. The shakedown bonus function no longer works, you must also try to push the snakes that are still in motion away from the screen using touch, try to swipe the snakes that are still in motion in the individual required directions to remove them from the screen, you will also receive additional points for this and the snakes, if you have blocked the screen, can be released using touch to trigger another shakedown to move many more snakes from the screen into the out of play, when you have removed all the snakes from the screen, you win the game and can go to a new level and play at a different level of difficulty.

No. 775 SetitOff

No.1 In this game you have to try to smash the lights that appear on the display with different light colors with your baseball bat in order to turn them off again. The more lights that appear and give off light, the more invisible the display becomes. It looks overexposed or spongy and blurry. For each colored individual light lamp, you need a colored individual baseball bat. You simply tap on the baseball bat and it changes or switches the color that you need in order to smash the lights with the correct color required and ultimately turn them off.

No.2 For every smashed colored, individual lamp, depending on how big or small it is, you get points, you urgently need these to top up your time credit account with these points, because the total running time is against you, you have to switch off or destroy all the lights in the required time to make the display more visible and to free the display of the lights, once you have freed the display and made the display visible again, then use the bonus trick, Setitoff and switch the entire screen to dark mode, in order to see which new lamps are still hidden, which will soon try to spray light again, destroy the remaining lamps in dark mode with your multi-color baseball bat, which can be switched on in real time, and collect points for your quick processing, which you can use in the future to unlock further levels.

No. 776 Seasnap

No.1 You must try to maneuver a ship on a transparent level and collect colored vector points of different sizes. These are used to attack the enemies on the level below. This means that on the transparent level you can see what enemy ships are in the area below you.

No.2 For example, try to use your red collected vector points, which can be in different sizes, to release the lower middle ship, which is near your upper ship, by placing the vector point near the enemy ship, and attack or hit it in order to ultimately destroy it.

No. 3 You control your ship on the display in bird's eye view and see what is currently under your level, which means you see the enemy ships and then use your so-called bombs, which are available as vector points in different colors and sizes, which are needed for a specific enemy ship. No. 4 You have to pay attention to the color and size of the enemy ship in order to hit it with your correct, held colored vector point. For each enemy ship that has sunk, you receive the time points +, which you need to keep the time clock running, because your time is limited and is running against it.

No.5 If you have managed to sink a number of different small, medium and large ships and have gained enough time, you can transfer the + time to the new level after sinking the targeted enemy ships.

No.6 Make sure that the enemy ships do not hit you with their missiles and destroy you, otherwise the game is lost, you can also control several of your own ships simultaneously in real time if you have unlocked them, you get points for each level you pass, which you can exchange for an additional ship

No. 777 Ringsnak

In this game, try to intertwine colored rings by throwing the colored rings at each other and linking them together to get a long ring length. You then use this to place these rings at different places on the display with the ring length, which is guided as a snake. Watch out for barriers and obstacles, as well as enemy opponents who want to prevent you from reaching your goal, namely to reach the right places on the display with the rings. For each ring placed, depending on the color and place, you receive Points, reach the specified points goal to move on to the next level

No. 778 Paranoid

No.1 You control a small spaceship in the middle of the screen and try to move this spaceship which can resemble a triangle or can turn into a square, rectangle, circle

No.2 Stars appear in these shapes, which must be shot down by the spaceship by transforming into these shapes, which means that when a triangular star approaches the spaceship, you have to bring it into the correct spaceship shape by pressing a button and then shoot it down or destroy it with the weapon that is activated to match the star.

No.3 If a star is approaching or a targeted star is in the shape of a circle, you must switch the shape of the spaceship by pressing a button in order to hit the shape of the star with the correctly activated weapon. New stars appear from all corners and edges, which you try to target by changing the spaceship and then ultimately shoot down the stars by firing the ammunition that you have to collect on the screen.

No.4 In addition, the stars are available in 4 different shapes with different colors and sizes on the display, collect the right ammunition with the right color to shoot the stars with the right color ammunition to ultimately destroy them, some stars need multiple completions to destroy, some don't, it depends on the size of the stars

No.5 The game runs on time and per star hit, depending on the size you get individual points +, these points, you urgently need for the further course of the game in order to master it in the running time

No. 779 NullProblemo

No.1 in this game, you control the main character Alf and have to achieve the following goals to get to the next level, which means that you have to collect a certain and required number of points to get to the next level

No.2 To get to certain points, you have to use Alf, who you can control in all directions on the screen, to try to provoke cats that appear from all corners of the screen and come in the right directions with a scream from Alf's mouth, which can be triggered by touching Alf, so that they can be caught. The capture happens through a catch net, which you activate when a cat approaches a certain position after you have made it move there with the Alf scream.

No.3 Try to catch the different and individual cats near the position using the different sizes of the catch net and make them disappear, clear the display of the cats that appear and after receiving the collected points trigger a bonus, the zero-problem scream, this ensures that no more cats are on the display or can appear for a certain time, during which you collect additional points on the free screen using pizza icons to give your Alf new scream special abilities after a certain number of icons have been collected, or to charge up his volume of screams, which is what you need for the next more difficult level.

No. 780 Neonraw

No.1 In this game, you must try to control a ball through a neon tube, which must pick up colored vector points as it moves, i.e. rolls, in order to then position them on the specific blank areas so that the blank area receives the required color. Try to color the places by placing or placing the colored, collected vector points while you roll or drive through the neon tube and thus win the area for yourself. No.2 For each correctly placed colored vector point, you get points and your speed is greatly improved. In addition, the neon tube lights up in the colored color and shines a super chic design. In turn, your opponents try to color their areas, so you have to color the opponent's areas differently with your colored vector points in order to achieve a higher percentage value at the end of the track and thus win the game.

No. 781 Moo-Flock

No.1 You have to try to control a cow and try to collect milk icons with it, these are used to make the cow move stronger and faster in order to protect yourself from your opponents who are trying to prevent you from collecting them or to run away from them

No.2 Also try to collect grass icons, these give you the opportunity to spit with the cow after a certain number and shot to destroy the enemies, which multiply rapidly, on the screen

No.3 Your goal is to collect enough colored and in the order required cow poop icons to get points. If you achieve a certain number of points and destroy all enemies with the cow's sock function that try to dissuade you, you will get to the next level. The levels are built in different shapes and levels and are more difficult in terms of architecture per level.

No. 782 Mambana

No.1 In this game, try to connect different colored and sized bananas that appear from the directions of the display so that you get a medium banana from the small combination and a large banana from the middle combination. Use drag and drop to pull the bananas together to get the required shapes or sizes. For example, if you have been given a task, in this case to connect 4 small, 6 medium and 8 large bananas, you must also make sure that the color you are pulling together is correct, otherwise you will lose time points, which means that your time account will be reduced if you do not put the right colors of bananas together.

No.2 After the connection, try to push the bananas away in the required directions of the screen using a swype to make them disappear from the display. You will receive points for this. When you have collected the required number of points, you can use the bonus and call out a Mambana. To do this, after receiving the bonus, shout the word Mambana into your cell phone. All the bananas will then disappear from the display and the screen and you will receive additional time points + to top up your time credit account in order to start the next, more difficult level.

No. 783 Lollipop

No.1 In this game you have to try to connect lollipops into one unit, which means that you first have to put the balls from the bottom of the display on the rods where the ball is normally installed, matching the color and order, which is individual, of the rods by drag and drop.

No.2 If you have managed to pull the bars with the balls on them, you must now pay attention to whether two, three or four identical balls of the same colour can be linked together. Linking works by swiping the balls from left to right, up and down or diagonally or vertically.

No.3 You must try to connect balls of the same color and size in order to link them so that they can dissolve after the connection to make room for new balls. Once you have connected some balls and dissolved them accordingly, a new ball grows on the rod that must be controlled, as mentioned above, a connection of the same size and color must be created with it so that it can dissolve again.

No.4 An individual ball can grow 3 times per pole and can be used to swipe the paths with the other balls. You must try to link all the poles after the balls have been dissolved. Pay attention to the color, which works in the same way as when connecting the colored balls. Pull the poles with the same color together so that they can also dissolve. Finally, you must completely dissolve the lollipops on the playing surface in order to get to the next more difficult level. Time is running against you and you must achieve the complete solution in a required time, otherwise the game is lost and you have to start the game again from the beginning.

No.5 Or you can hit the balls that have found their place on the poles with a harpoon to pull them off the pole so that a new one can grow back. You get the harpoon as a bonus after a certain time during the game, it is used to play the game faster.

No. 784 Lokofrog

No.1 In this game you must try to pull out various types of insects from the frog's mouth, using a tongue, of the frog you have chosen to use, and transport them into its mouth. Pulling out the different shapes and colors of insects is done by double or triple tapping the direction of the display where the insect is approximately located. Tap the teaching points on the display, but with directional instructions in relation to the insects.

No.2 The frog changes its color, so optimize your catch so that at the right time, with the right color of the frog, you also catch the insect of the same color with its individually sized movable frog tongue, which can be used optimally in the changing state when it is the right size of the insect in relation to the distance to the frog's mouth. No.3 For each individual insect caught, depending on size and color or length, you receive specific points, you need these to maintain the time credit account at the same time so that the regular time does not suddenly start to decrease. If the time runs out, the game is over and your score is counted. If the score meets the required requirements, then you can go to the next level.

No. 785 Layercake

In this game, you try to play with a cookie as a game character in such a way that it hops from one level, which serves as a springboard, to the next level in order to overcome an incline. This means that you place your levels from the left or right of the edge of the display using Swype and make sure that the cookie, which is kept small at the beginning of the game and gets bigger as the game progresses, hops onto the levels and thus climbs up bit by bit. Try to reach a specified height and thus complete the level. In addition, you have to place several levels at the same time as a base for the growing cookie. The bigger the cookie gets, the more levels the cookie needs to get jumping power. The levels serve as springboards for the cookie, which has to be pushed ever higher in order to reach the required height.

No. 786 LayBall

No.1 In this game you have to try to fill the required individual holes on the screen with the appropriate blocks, this means you have to fill the holes so that the screen becomes a smooth surface, this is then used to try to move a ball that falls onto the wobbly surface so that it does not fall off the edge of the surface, the surface wobbles after the holes have been filled and has no edge on the outside where the ball can fall down

No.2 By tapping on the level you control the ball in individual directions, the level also has colored areas that have to be played on a scoreboard, which means that you also have to play on the colored individual areas on the edge to get points, you have to reach a certain number of points in a required time to get to the next level, the ball changes its size and shape as you move it by tapping on the level, which makes it more difficult to navigate and position the ball on the colored areas, barriers and obstacles also appear that you have to go around or get out of the way by bouncing the ball

No. 787 Pufferfish

No.1 In this game you try to protect inflating puffer fish that feed on the colored and individual balls that fall from all directions of the screen and are sucked up by the multiplying puffer fish, your mission is to prevent the puffer fish from doing so, equipped with a sparrow sling and a harpoon, try to eliminate the emerging balls, because if a puffer fish becomes fully charged by absorbing the balls in the future, it can, after its explosion, connect with a puffer fish that was previously swimming nearby and make the explosion more dramatic

No.2 Every explosion of the puffer fish takes away their life energy and they don't have that much of it. If you can target a puffer fish in time before the explosion, touch it and try to swipe it in the right direction indicated by the screen to avoid the explosion, you will get away with less damage and save life energy for the future of the round-based game. No.3 The aim is to destroy the balls that appear beforehand so that the puffer fish don't inflate themselves and move towards the explosion. You must also try to push the puffer fish away from the display in the required directions with touch before the explosion. To clear the display of puffer fish, clear the display of puffer fish in a time limit and leave none left before they all explode and you lose the game. rob them of their last life energy, by keeping the puffer fish away from the display, called combos, they receive additional life energy as collectible icons that are pulled to them via drag and drop, they have to finish the game, which is timed, before the clock runs out and get all the puffer fish out of the screen to get to the next more difficult level

No. 788 TheGeathering

No.1 In this game you must try to generate a gathering of ghosts in order to darken the screen or the playing area. The gathering of ghosts can be put together if you try to capture these ghosts on the display. Armed with a ghost cannon and a ghost box as well as a flashlight, they must go ghost hunting on the 3D square, which can be rotated 3D dimensionally.

No.2 You control an emoji figure that is to serve as your main character, armed with the weapons mentioned here, which can be found by searching in and on the square, you must first illuminate the ghosts with a flashlight, first find them, then aim the ghost cannon at them, paralyze them and shock them until they have no more strength, then use the ghost box to capture them, use the search radar to try to locate and catch the ghosts

No.3 If you have caught some ghosts, you have to go through the labyrinth of the 3D game cube, within a time limit, to get to the right portal in order to bring the ghosts into the ghost machine and lock them up. After a time of being locked up, you have to find the necessary healing juice, which you also have to find in the cube, i.e. the 3D square, in order to start the ghost machine's function, so that the machine can use the juice to turn the ghosts back into normal emoji figures. You have to turn a certain collection of figures back again in order to then put the emoji figures together in an assembly, which means that you can use the transformed figures to play the bonus game with them, namely, linking the figures in a similar looking form. The game runs against a time limit and you have to dissolve this assembly of emoji figures next to each other, next to each other, in an elapsed time (see candy crush game), in order to darken the screen again, to look for new ghosts, which only show up when the display is darkened, then grab them and go back. into emojis

No.4 The aim is to find all the ghosts and, after the transformation, to get points for the emojis that you generate later in the dissolution process. You can use these points to unlock and conquer new levels on the 3D game cube in the future. The hunt can begin.

No. 789 SlickandTires

No.1 In this game you must try to control a car tire that, by picking up colored vectors in different shapes and sizes, creates certain individual certificates on the track, which is designed without barriers. No.2 You control the car tire through a track similar to a rollercoaster and must jump over obstacles and objects while driving. In addition, you must try to push other moving car tires off the track by pushing them out of the frame and out of the track.

No.3 For each enemy car tire you kill, you get points, which you can use during the level break to upgrade your tires, improve your driving skills and, in the future, generate better driving behavior

No.4 The game is also timed and you have to complete the route in the required time, otherwise you will have to start again from the beginning to complete the section of the route.

No.5 The tracks, which resemble a roller coaster, are also marked with special and, depending on the level, different surfaces, so after each new track you have to select the appropriate car tire and its surface, if you have earned and unlocked it, in order to unlock the individual car tires, you have to drive on the track for a certain time in order to then select them in your garage for the next track.

No.6 Always earn new car tires and use them with your own good conscience on the crazy roller coaster tracks, reach a checkpoint on the track to start again from there if you fall off the edge of the track, by crossing the checkpoints you get time +, which means that you get a certain amount of time to cross the next checkpoint, until you reach the finish, the route must be completed within a special time limit

No.7 You get accelerations through the different colored vectors on the track that come in different sizes and are used to complete specific sections of the roller coaster track faster in order to ultimately reach the destination of the track in the given time.

No.8 In the multiplayer mode of the game, this fun racer, up to 24 different, self-designed car tires can join in and challenge them to a battle, with tracks built by the users themselves, in rollercoaster design, it will not be boring in the future

No. 790 RideAlong

No.1 In this game, you have to put together a monster truck using a puzzle game in order to use it later on tracks or in destruction mode. Once you have chosen a model and put it together using the puzzle function, you can now take part in your first race with the truck. While you are driving the truck on the track, you try to collect puzzle pieces, i.e. icons. These are used to build a second truck, which must be used in the destruction mode of the game, for example.

No.2 Drive your truck on the track, over acceleration strips to give it more speed, in addition, you can pick up weapon systems to use against moving cars, for each car destroyed on the track you receive upgrade points, you use these to exchange your truck for better driving skills upgrades in garage mode after completing the track, so always collect points to bring your truck up to date with the upgrades

No.3 If you have collected and collected enough puzzle icons on the tracks, you can start building in the level pause, garage mode, to build your destruction truck. After a while, once you have put your truck together, you can now take part in these destruction races with it. Here, other trucks meet and try to find each other according to the game principle of twisted metal and fight each other with collected weapon systems that are scattered around the arena. The last truck left in the arena at the end wins the game and receives a new truck for their fleet, which they must use for individual tracks in order to progress in the game.

No.4 So, try to win the races and battles of destruction in the arenas to get new trucks by playing, because in the future, every new track you drive on can only be driven on with a certain trick and can only be used with the special truck you have earned. Collect the puzzle icons on every new track you have earned in order to use these puzzle pieces in garage mode to design and manufacture a new truck.

No.5 Take part in online races to be the best driver in the top 3 places in the rankings at the end of the month. For these places, the game inventor will give you a gift, a metal monster truck, which will be delivered to your home in individual parts, so that you can then assemble it, photograph it and integrate it back into the digital game as a valuable monster truck (barcode scan integration). You can also trade with other users from the game or from the Internet to get the necessary puzzle pieces or trade the entire monster truck.

No. 791 HustleandFlow

No.1 In this game, you have to try to stomp a city or village that is given to you to choose from and is equipped with barriers and obstacles with your digger so that you can find the important power icons in the buildings that are hidden in the city or village. If you have found several buildings with your digger and strategically thought about how to destroy them one after the other, then you start with the destruction. For example, if you have destroyed a building perfectly and the following building successfully, you will receive flow points for this. Collect points by destroying the buildings normally in order to improve your digger with new special abilities in the new level by upgrading.

No.2 Use the collected flow points, if you have received enough, if you have successfully started a destruction combo, to destroy all the remaining buildings in one go and leave nothing of the buildings left, make sure to collect time points + after the destruction of the buildings that have appeared, you will need these in the new level, because the game is timed, you have to destroy a required number of buildings in the required time to get to the new level.

No.3 From the world map, select the cities that you want to work on piece by piece and reduce to rubble. After successfully hunting for points, you can use the break between successfully completing a level to refine your excavator with upgrades and install new weapons to destroy the following buildings in the future. Do not use up all the points at once, but divide them up well for the rest of the game. The weapon systems used expire after each newly assigned level. Stay in the flow and try to activate the flow so that the required buildings on the scoreboard that you have to destroy are destroyed in one go.

No. 792 GinandJuice

No.1 In this restaurant you will find what you cannot find in other restaurants, you just have to send a digital order from your seat, this is done through a surface that is integrated at your table

No.2 The tablet provides you with a huge digital world map and you can choose your favorite dish and the traditional house dish from over 85 countries plus a local drink to go with the meal.

Choose dessert based on the selection on the country map

No.3 You simply have to select the country on the digital map and the city hidden in it and you will receive an exclusive offer for the traditional dish that is currently being offered there in real time, or you can use the rotating carousel to randomly decide what you want to order on the table during your visit, the wheel turns and randomly selects a traditional dish from the 85 countries on offer, including a drink and dessert. No.4 You can also be guided by the tips of other guests and Internet users who have already submitted reviews or are in the restaurant live, this option remains yours as an option for free decision

No.5 After ordering, you can prepare your plate yourself and add the ingredients and prepare it live on site or have the restaurant staff do it for you professionally

No.6 You can also place your order from home using the app, following the same principle described here, as a digital version for your smartphone

No.7 You can also take part in a competition via the app. It works in the sense that you try to play a game, which is briefly described here. The game works by trying to hit the ingredients of your order as an emoji using a sparrow slingshot in a large pot. If you manage to score more points, 1x point per hit, 85 countries, so around 350 ingredients and 350 attempted point throws, depending on how the number is required on the day of the competition, and get more than the other opponents, you will receive a free meal plus drink and dessert on your next visit to the GinandJuice restaurant.

No.8 The restaurant design is based on the style of the film pulp fiction, true to the original and with individual changes and offers plenty of space for the customers

No. 793 Gatherball

No.1 In this game you have to try to control a hedgehog that has spikes on its back. On the spikes there are colored balls of different sizes. You have to throw the hedgehog on a track and at a certain point, when it stops, switch the balls that it is carrying on its spikes to the end of the track using Swype or use your finger to touch the ball and then drag and swype it onto the track. At the end of the track there are colored balls that have to be connected by throwing the balls from the hedgehog's spikes into colored connections by hitting them.

No.2 As in bowling, you aim in a direction with the colored balls of the hedgehog that are on the spikes and try to hit the balls of the same color so that they connect and then dissolve after the connection. Try to hit all the balls that are waiting for you at the end of the lane and dissolve them so that no ball is left when you have achieved that. Use another hedgehog with colored and different sized balls to process all the balls so that none are left on the spike and at the end of the lane with the balls thrown by the hedgehog, all the balls dissolve into one another. Try to use 3 hedgehogs in a row so that all the balls are processed. For each connection of the ball that is dissolved, you get points. These points must be met as a target in order to keep up with the time that is running against you.

No. 794 FullTimeLover

No.1 In order to win the heart of a female single in this dating app, you have to grant the other male singles who are on the waiting list and rankings, your female wish character, a wish. This wish includes finding a digital heart hidden in the real world. You are given a time limit to find the digital heart with your smartphone in the real world and catch it with your digital basket and send it to your female single seen by photo via the app within the required time.

No.2 If they are slower than the other players and send the captured heart to their desired female single later, they will receive a communication block for a certain period of time, which has been specified by the female single they wanted to connect with. The faster adventurer in the wild who catches the digital heart first and sends it to the desired female single in real time will be the first to contact her. No.3 There are also additional games. If communication has been confirmed for a certain period of time between the two singles, if the female or male single can find and catch certain digital emoji gift icons in the real world that have been hidden by the app with their smartphone within the required time, they will receive a gift voucher, for example for a restaurant visit with dinner in their area or even a trip as a gift, in order to improve the communication between the two singles in the future.

No. 795 FeetGrow

No.1 At the beginning you control a centipede which is very short, you have to try to make it as long as possible and avoid barriers and obstacles as well as opponents that are on the first level by collecting feet as icons, for each foot collected the centipede grows in length, once you have reached a certain length you can move through a hole, one level down or up, and try to collect more feet there No.2 The aim is also to neutralise opponents with your fillers on the level that represents the entire screen and to eliminate them, fulfil the aim and eliminate all opponents by heading towards them and pushing them out of the edge of the screen with the fillers or electrifying them in order to open the gate or portal to the level below or above and destroy more opponents there and fight your way up level by level No.3 There is a setting on the scoreboard that tells you which companies and colours of feet you should use after the correct You have to collect them in the correct order to make the centipede grow further. For each enemy destroyed, you get + points. Collect these to keep your time balance in the plus. The game is time-based and if the time runs out before the required time is not met, the game is considered lost.

No. 796 Crawlcrip

No.1 In this game you have to try to send insects that crawl out of the holes in the game board or screen back there to make them disappear. This works if you fire snowballs at the insects, which you drag and drop into your snowball machine or swype into while the insects try to block the screen to load them with ammunition.

No.2 Once you have collected the small, medium or large coloured snowballs lying in different positions, you can now fire at the coloured and moving insects in different shapes and sizes with the appropriate snowballs to freeze them so that they can be made immobile and then use a touch tip or swype to guide them back into the holes from which they previously crawled out. Once you have sent the required number of insects back per hole, the hole is plugged and no more insects will come out of this area. Follow the insects and close all exits, i.e. holes from which the insects first crawled out, to clear the display. For each clearing of the display, you will receive points + which you must collect in order to take them with you to the more difficult levels in the future. The game is timed. If you do not manage to make all the insects disappear from the display, you will receive points - which will be deducted from your time credit account. reduced, as soon as the time is zero and there are still more insects on the display, the game is considered to have failed

No. 797 ChairChamp

No.1 You must try to quickly drag and drop certain chairs of the same shape and color on the screen according to their visibility and display and put them together to form a stack. Try to build a higher and more stable stack than your opponent. When the required number of meters, i.e. the height of the stack, has been reached, your man (climber) climbs onto the chairs and tries to climb up by alternately clicking on A and B on his touch panel to raise his flag. The player who reaches the height with his men on his stack and is the first to climb up wins the game. No.2 The game can be played with up to 12 players at the same time. Make sure you drag the correct shapes and colors of chairs, which must be connected, together to enable the stack to be built. In new levels, you have to build several individual, colored chair stacks of different sizes and be the first to raise the flag in order to get into the top 3 players, get points and move up to the next level in the rankings.

No. 798 Bankjob

No.1 In this game you must try to control a character from a bird's eye view. Your task involves collecting digital money bags. In order to get a money bag, you must pay attention to the following: you must search for enemy bank robbers that appear on the map and use the radar to find and eliminate them. Each of these enemies throws and leaves behind, after being eliminated, an individual money bag with a different amount of money, which they must return to their personal bank. No.2 You control your character in the best GTA 2 manner through the towns and villages of the country, which you have previously selected. By finding the first weapons and their ammunition, which are individually hidden in the level, you can equip yourself and protect yourself against the enemy bank robbers in the jungle of the city and thus eliminate them. Search for and find the bank robbers who, after the correct order of elimination, will provide you with digital money bags.

No.3 You have to find and eliminate these individual bank robbers in the correct order. You will receive an individual amount of money for each bank robber you kill. With this stolen amount of money, you must then acquire new weapons and equipment for your new tasks. You have a required kill list of bank robbers that you have to kill in a required time. If the time runs out, these bank robbers will disappear and the police will become aware of them. They will then pursue you and try to harm you and then arrest you. Try not to let it come to that.

No.4 The bank robbers hide in houses and various buildings, you must remember to find and eliminate them in time, because if you do not manage to eliminate them in the required time, then the individual robbery begins, these bank robbers approach the city or village and try to rob it, you must know that you are the founder of this city or village, so you must stop your city before the next big robbery of the individual bank robbers by finding and eliminating them.

No.5 If you have completed the required kill list and have been able to return the digital money bags to your bank, you can then put this money into a new form and create new buildings and facilities in order to receive rental income for the future in your town or village, protect these buildings and facilities from the big robbery of the bank robbers and do not let the police stop you from ultimately eliminating them.

No.6 For each individual bank robber, you have a certain amount of time to eliminate him. If you do not manage to eliminate him in that time, then this bank robber will multiply from then on. If you have not tracked him down, you collect essential time icons while searching for the bank robbers in order to top up your time credit account. If the time runs out, the bank robbers multiply before you can eliminate them again and start the big robbery on your bank together. So be on your guard and take out all the bank robbers as quickly as possible before the time runs out to prevent the big robbery, so as not to lose your money units again to the bank robbers.

No. 799 BeCool

No.1 In this game you must try to lead a character to the goal of becoming the top Hollywood star. You create an individual character that you design yourself and have to lead on an adventure through different directions and paths or portals of the Hollywood filmography. This means that you have to complete a task for each film you choose from your filmography. This means that

You have to find portal points in the adventure or film that you have chosen as a game field within a specified time in order to then travel through another film of your choice into a new adventure. In each film adventure, what you experience must be a specific passage from the Hollywood director's book. To do this, try to find the important passage from the Hollywood director's book in your first adventure and your chosen film, which looks the same as the original and the level design is very similar to the game. No. 2. Try to find the important passage from the Hollywood director's book in your first film, taking into account that you have to fight enemy troops who are protecting this passage in beat 'em up or third or first person perspective in order to get to the passage you are looking for.

,if you have found the passage in your film with your radar, arm yourself sufficiently and go into battle against the enemy troops in the principle of the 3 game modes optics that were just mentioned, you only have a certain amount of time to find the passage of the Hollywood director's book, free it and bring it back to your living room through the portal, so be quick and orderly in your search and fight the protectors of the passage, for each enemy you defeat you receive portal points, collect enough portal points to get back home and enough time points to be ported into a new film, a new adventure from your sofa

No.3 When you have got hold of the passage, return to your house as quickly as possible and back to your living room, where you then plan the next film adventure by using your collected portal and time points to be ported into a new adventure in a film selected from your filmography and to find and get hold of the important, further missing passage of the Hollywood director's book. You have to lead back around 13 missing passages in order to decipher and decode the secret of the Hollywood director's book. When you have found all the passages, return to your living room and try to solve the puzzle by linking the passages. If this link is not completely solved correctly, you will receive a new unfinished film delivered to your home by stream. You have to go on the search again to find the appropriate and similar functioning key words in order to continue configuring your puzzle. Only when you have solved the puzzle 100 percent will you receive the end adventure. Provided, you can create your own adventure film game with the help of Director Hollywood's book and invite internet players to play it, you also hide passages in this game that are important for the internet players, these internet players use their passage to solve their puzzle or to partially decipher it, at the end of the game you will be a director of your own invented film adventure game, which will be played by other players from the world of Hollywood, and will provide the basis for a new film in the future

No. 800 HeaveninFire

No. 1 in this game, try to protect the moon from enemy music pieces or note fire, in short, that means that you try to block the notes that are played by the musicians around the moon or, in the function described below, hold them back from the moon, this works if you try to place the incoming notes, using finger tap and drag and drop, into the circular note system that is around the moon, into the blank fields so that they achieve a correct playable rhythm, place the notes that are coming at you - and this happens around the moon, coming from all directions, not correctly and in terms of color and size - into the correct blank field types, then there is more rhythm and the moon moves in vibration, the more it starts to vibrate, the more it crumbles and starts to catch fire

No.2 To stop the fire, you must use your laser beam to distract the enemy troops, i.e. the music ships that are firing notes at you, and prevent them from firing more notes at you. For each correctly placed note in the circular note system, you receive points. If the burning moon catches fire, you can recover it by exchanging the points for water glaziers that you place on the moon and extinguish the fire in the burning areas individually.

No.3 The aim is to protect the moon from total combustion and to save the entire music system by inserting the flaming notes from the music ships into the blank fields. If the notes inserted create a rhythm and the sought and required music title is played correctly 50, 75, 100 percent of the time, the moon recovers from the burns and can hold back and ultimately drive away the music ships by firing correctly colored vector points at the music ships, or destroy them completely in the end.

No. 801 Aqualight

No. 1 In order to possibly develop a new streaming technology, we use the game Tetris or PuyoPop, and through the game algorithms that occur in this game, we develop a new, better individuality, a new technology of streaming, of data packets, in the IT sector of the future

No. 2 In this Tetris vs. PuyoPop variant, you have to link circles, triangles, squares, rectangles and other shapes that are known from mathematics, in principle, next to each other, by changing the directions of the shapes, so that the shape that is on top of each other or next to each other sits on top of another, and after the setting, the link starts so that the pattern is released and further shapes can be loaded. No. 3 In the mathematical shapes, there are spider webs that have connected a network of individual numbers or number systems from 0 to 1, the distributor of the network is randomly selected and each design of the respective spider web is truly, individually designed, the numbers or numbers are distributed and travel through the lines of the spider web to each other and result in a machine code that makes sense depending on the direction, if the connection is checked separately by the distributor, the distributor uses the pattern of the spider web to put its machine code on top of each other and interpret it in a guild. so that the connection between the number rows that travel through the web results in a faithful code that is needed for later programming in order to create an output that can be guaranteed by the input of the numbers from 0 to 1 in the spider web

No. 4 In order to hide the key behind this theoretical algorithm, which is mentioned here, one must take into account that the mathematical shapes must be stacked on top of each other and next to each other in order to ultimately resolve them, so that you can use other shapes from the directions of the game to secure the encryption of the data of the machine code of the spider web hidden here so that the technology of the new stream system can be guaranteed, try to start this endlessly looping game and learn from it how many shapes are linked to each other in order to save the background of the above function in order to be able to use the stream system with improved data protection in the future, called Aqualight, and to upload it to other multiplied cloud systems in order to design and manage an improved stream of multimedia data in the distant future, as well as to use this idea of a faster and more secure connection for information exchange algorithms. and its machine codes, to ensure

No.802 ButterflyEffect

No. 1 To use this messenger, you must meet the following requirements: enter your personal data that you would like to enter and which is used for identification purposes, which will be encrypted 3x and stored in the cloud

No. 2 In this messenger, you can upload memories from your personal data and implement actions from your everyday life in real time, as well as access multimedia formats that are linked to other users from the cloud-based data cloud. By giving your permission, you allow the messenger's AI to use it, which compares its interpretation of your data with the faces of your profile and gives you the opportunity to display a timeline of the uploaded multimedia formats in a new design.

No. 3 The time-line is a 3D square that you can turn and switch in any direction. In the time-line itself, you will be shown the correct links from your previously selected categories, your data and that of those who have currently activated it or want it in the future, according to the new optical viewing scheme shown here. You can switch through the timeline and view these linked multimedia formats, such as images, text, videos or even file formats from the computer industry, on your 3D square and edit them in real time, for example with a video, image, text optimization plugin that you use to get these formats in a better visual appearance.

No. 4 You can exchange your complete timeline, which is used as a 3D square as a viewer, with other squares or cubes when you are in contact with a personal and close person from your circle of friends, you can also make free phone calls via IP Cloud and exchange free messages with each other, such as text, images, video, voice format, which can be sent live from the viewer cube

No. 5 You, in turn, have the option of using the cube, which serves as a communication viewer, to access news channels from all over the world, as well as streaming music platforms, YouTube channels and an uncomplicated Internet search. The websites are displayed as mini plugin apps on the viewer cube. You download these as mini plugin apps and can benefit from receiving the latest and most sought-after information about the things that interest you and comparing and exchanging this with other users in order to get the latest information, which is compared in real time with the Internet databases of the world.

No. 6 The cost of this messenger of the future will, according to calculations and billing, cost a total of 33 cents per month and the total package will cost 3.30 dollars per year. For this you will receive a new messenger of the future with upgrades, improvements and updates that are constantly running in real time. It also offers the option of connecting with the world of user information and exchanging real-time information from this world, keeping them up to date with what the messengers of the past could not offer them.

No.803 DoShowShowDo

No. 1 In this digital first person shooter, you first try to develop a level into a game world, you draw on Hollywood locations, which means you choose an individual film from one of the various film categories and use its setting as an example for building your shared game levels, the other players in this game help you with other locations and link them to your level or to theirs, or use the game's AI to build the setting more quickly. No. 2 Once you have built a game level design together, the game begins according to the principle of Death Match or Capture the Flag, which means that you now try to assert yourself in your level in Death Match mode against a variety of other opponents with weapons specially developed for the game, the one who has the most kills at the end of the time wins the round, in Capture the Flag mode, you have to steal the flag from the opponent's headquarters and bring it back to yours intact. to get a point in the current time

No. 3 What is special is that the level design and its structure changes individually after each move by the AI, which brings new challenges and increases the flow of the game, you can also destroy the architecture of the game, as well as move objects and use them to unsettle the opponents, the aim is to get the most kills or the most points at the end in order to unlock new locations from new films, then use them in the new levels and make the game more versatile in the future with new folders.

No. 804 DreamChill

No. 1 You must implement your thoughts into the input matrix and into the individual grid, from your diary or from your memory of your own needs, by voice or text. No. 2 The program uses your inputs, through the construction of AI, to create rooms, buildings and landscapes, as well as infrastructures for your well-being.

No. 3 Using virtual reality, you can now enjoy your free time and go on holiday in these virtual places created by the AI, exchange your diary notes about your needs and thoughts with other users in order to enjoy and experience an individual variety of the newly configured experiences in the virtual world of DreamChill.

No. 4 Go out into the real world and try to find and capture the thoughts of the users of this game or program hidden in the real world with your smartphone. To do this, you must be close to them and make sure that you have the necessary time and cover the required distance to the hiding place on the digital map, in real life and with enough kilometers, to guarantee that the thought appears before your eyes, i.e. through the camera of your smartphone, and that you can capture it using a catch net and write it in your diary in the future.

No. 805 FitinFingers

You select a song video from YouTube. When you touch the video, it receives a fingerprint from you and searches for a similar fingerprint on YouTube that you have just or already searched for, at the set time and location. While you touch the video with your finger, YouTube searches for similar fingerprints from the database or in real time using your fingerprint and shows you new, similar content based on this in a new 3D cube look. You can switch through the new content found and merged using the 3D cube on each page and display the content found using your fingerprint. You can send a page of content to an account user using swype if you use the double tap function. You also have an RGB circle for randomly searching for your content. It carries out your search if you select a maximum of 3 colors. YouTube uses the colors to find new content in real time from the videos that contain this color most often in their videos. Furthermore, you can fill your account with channels using the 3D cube look, using drag and drop, and have them displayed on one side of the 3D cube in a newly displayed timeline for scrolling. Once you have created a timeline, you can forward it to other users using a rotating carousel and distribute the shit on YouTube based on chance and luck. You can also touch the video for a longer time and hold it down with your finger for a while. A circle of max. 8 faces of YouTube users who have this in their channel will appear and you can now send them other videos that you like, that can be seen in the mix and follow, with the throwback function for each video or mix pressed.

No.806 FlaveyourFlavour

No. 1 Before you are invited to the restaurant, you must verify yourself online for a virtual tour of the restaurant and select your surroundings or design your seat virtually yourself, which means that your seat, which is surrounded by LED screens, will display your flora, choose your taste from your ideas and wishes, for example the background of the New York skyline and save this for your invitation, your saving of your chosen design will be projected live to your seat during your visit and what you had thought up as other individual ideas for your seat will be applied and will be made available to you. No. 2 Now try to present your invitation card during your visit by simply integrating it into the table at your desired seat, make sure beforehand that you have made a reservation to ensure confirmation of the invitation, your invitation card is a digital chip and contains your wishes, which you yourself designed beforehand using a VR app, for your Once you have created your personal space, insert the chip into the table slot and now you will receive your design in your space environment, digitalized on the newly created LED wall projection, which means that the table, for example, will be surrounded in a circle by what you imagined in the VR app, the appropriate section and desired provision of your design. The space environment, with the corresponding, desired smooth music, will now be presented to you and played.

No. 3 The table surface also serves as an ordering option, which you can arrange to suit your wishes, in this example, you choose a meal from the New York kitchen that fits in with the environment and feels homely and delivers the local taste of the New York kitchen, which on the surface table fits in with your environment, which you had previously designed yourself via VR, and gives you a homely and loving feeling of closeness.

No. 4 You choose your desired meal from the surface table, using the drag and drop function plus touch plug-ins from the emoji scalability, and add your ideas as an addition to the order, which is then displayed in real time in the kitchen as input for your order wishes and is put into processing, which means in short that you are in a New York lineup restaurant, as a digital being, and you can taste and eat your suitable meal, which is served there in the original way, in this restaurant, until the time runs out and your environment, true to the original Flave restaurant, adapts again, so eat deliciously, your ideas in connection with yourself, until the true face of the restaurant is revealed again, after the end of the time you have spent, be prepared for the future and fill up and chill out in the feeling of taste

No.807 HubCloud

In this cloud-based system, by making data volumes available from various areas of the computer industry, they must create a system that runs on a new file format. This means that they encode their data volumes using the Show width Interface protocol method and use the method for encoding (see App Gallery Aqua-light.pl) to make the data volumes they have made available for streaming available to Hubcloud users in a new, compressed file format in the future. Each hub is a categorization or a directory of data that is offered to them in a real-time stream. This means that they can only access the stream if the uploader has connected their hardware to the Internet and has given permission for the simultaneous stream, which accesses other data and compares it to see whether it is available multiple times on the Internet and then uses bundled line optimization to show them whether there is enough bundled data available online for the shared stream connection. If there is enough of the same data available, you can browse the hub and search for specific data and start the livestream of the data display, as long as the hardware is connected to the Internet of the other users. Thanks to the new compression from Aqualight.pl, you can use the stream with a small amount of data and, even with a not so good Internet speed system, you can start the stream and buffer it in checkpoints for the future, so that if it is interrupted, you can continue streaming from the same point at the checkpoint in the future, without starting the stream again from the beginning and not losing it.

No. 808 Krokoh

No.1 In this game, you have to control a digital crocodile and try to catch ducks in the water and on land

No.2 The special thing is that the ducks do not come out of the display or Screen edge, otherwise you will get time - point deductions, try to get as close to the ducks as possible and catch them with your mouth and thus eat them

No.3 There are different types of ducks, small, medium, large and colored. To catch the colored ducks, you have to collect the necessary color vector points on the display to turn the crocodile into the right color of the duck you are looking for. You also have to adjust your crocodile's mouth to the right size of the duck. This happens when you use the power icons, which you also have to collect explicitly when catching the duck in order to be able to catch it.

No.4 The game is timed, you get time points + for each duck eaten, 1 for the small one, 2 for the medium one and 3 for the largest, credited to your time account. Your goal is to grab all the ducks from the display and eat them before the timer shuts down, because when the timer runs out and the shutdown starts, the ducks that meet each other multiply many times over, so the display becomes fuller and you cannot grab all the ducks and put them in your mouth before the time runs out.

No.5 In addition, barriers and obstacles, as well as bombs placed by the ducks and other forms of obstruction prevent them from catching the ducks, the levels change in real time, which means that it rains, snows, is windy, hails, summery, stormy and dark, which in turn makes the game and catching the ducks more difficult in the future of the game

No.6 The crocodile is controlled in left, right, down, up and diagonal directions with your fingers. When you are near the duck you are looking for, which is to be caught on the display board in the correct order, you must perform a single tap for a small one, a double tap for a medium one and a triple tap on the crocodile's mouth, after previously collecting the vector points for the size and color catch function, in order to open the mouth and finally catch the duck.

No.809 Serio

No. 1 in this search engine of the alternative idea, your room is technically digitized in 3D, you just have to use the app to photograph or scan this room according to specifications in different areas with the smartphone camera. No. 2 After digitization in 3D optics, you now have the option of using the following functions in your argument reality room, there are apps in your room that are available and can be tried out for searching, communication, shopping, games, service, television, music, data, etc. No. 3 The special thing is that the search engine summarizes your own comments and reviews on websites and can display them in detail in the comments option for searching. It is also possible to search for information from the apps mentioned above and have this displayed based on the search in a new view that is built on a 3D cube on the smartphone or computer + virtual room (VR glasses required)

No. 4 Use the apps from the sidantre.com Gallery to get a new range of experiences and add them from your own directory to your Argument Reality Room to be involved in the future

No.810 SmashGirlsSmashBoys

No. 1 In this game you have to try to build a connection with a female or male single, to do this you first have to unlock the faces disguised as emojis and under a user name on the Single Love Radar in your area to see who is hiding behind the emoji

No. 2 To do this, you have to click on the emoji that is marked for female or male singles to start the game and get to the profile of the female or male single. The game is about pushing or swiping the emojis that appear in the correct, predetermined order in the predetermined direction of the display, i.e. up, down, left, right, and to the corners of the display, or smashing them with a digital baseball bat.

No. 3 For each correctly moved emoji in the right direction you get points, you have to reach a certain number of points to get to the profile of the female or male single, in order to then unlock the communication options, the options include images, text, video, voice exchange and are made available to you after successfully completing the game, to activate an option you now have to conquer a higher and more difficult game flow again according to the game principle mentioned here, if you do not manage to communicate within a general time limit that is running against you, the connection to the user is blocked and you have to choose a new one or wait a day until you can get in touch again using the communication channels you have earned.

No. 4 To get around the game, they can and must find and catch the digital hearts that have been hidden in their real vicinity or environment with their smartphone and send emojis to the female or male partner in order to get in touch with them

No.811 SnakePliskin

No. 1 In this snake, retro design modding game, you must try to catch the snake, which appears randomly on the smartphone display and tries to disappear in the following directions: left, right, top, bottom, diagonally, i.e. to escape from the edge of the screen, with the hand of your smartphone, see gyroscope function, try with your smartphone in your hand, depending on which direction the snake is moving, take your smartphone in your hand and pull it into the air, tilt it in the direction of the snake and swallow it with your mouth open, see beer app on Apple iPhone 1 (memory from the past), if you do not manage to swallow the snake with the one in you, for you, in the correct position, the snake will multiply and you will now have 2 of them and from now on more on the display, which will try to grab their time points that they scattered at the beginning of the game.

No. 2 Tilt your phone and, like drinking a beer, try to swallow the snakes, which is done in a standardized time limit procedure. If you do not manage to swallow the snakes in the specified time, the display will darken and you will have to complete the next stage of catching the snake. This means that you will now see snakes flashing briefly and it will be immensely more difficult to master these in your field of vision for swallowing and sucking them in, due to the tilt towards the direction of the snake with its mouth open.

No. 3 If you have swallowed the required snakes using the swallow gyroscope function, the level is considered successful and you can now, in the next level, control the snakes for an online player yourself and drive him crazy using the swallow principle or challenge him to improve your previous points record and beat him. If the online player manages it, it is now your turn again and try to swallow the snakes using the gyroscope swallow method in order to achieve a better points record than previously in the game. It is important to note that when swallowing the snake you should speak a word that is being sought into the microphone while you are swallowing in order to 100% guarantee that the snake will be caught.

No. 812 TitiTwister

No. 1 In this game you have to try to reach a town called Al Ray with your fast cars, which you have previously designed and built, in driver mode, which means you have to compete against other opponents, in this case from the carousel, drawn in the number of 24 cars, and get into the top 3 ranks while you arrive in AL Ray

No. 2 Let's assume you reach the top positions, among the top 3 and have arrived in the town of AL Ray, then you will receive a ticket with the other 3 players to visit the TitiTwister Bar, the ticket has an expiring time, you must leave the bar at the right time and continue to take part in new multiplayer races against other opponents, time is running against you and you must act quickly

No. 3 First, however, you must complete the following tasks in the TitiT-wister Bar, you sit down at one of the poker tables and try to multiply your stake that you received before the game in a poker game in order to buy fuel for the rest of the game, after a certain amount of time playing, and through the luck of the game and the multiplication of your stake, you realize that it is time to leave, it gets dark in the bar and you slowly realize that your fellow players and the guests have turned into vampires, so it switches that

Play in the first person or third person perspective and you have to try to get out of the bar alive, you have to try to destroy the other players and guests who have been turned into vampires with the arsenal of weapons that appear in the bar, and finally get away and get to other places where new vampire bars have set up.

No. 4 The vampires storm into the bar from all directions and block the exit. They must survive a set time, now in this hack and slay process, until the sun rises and they have individually punched holes in the building so that the sun's rays can hit the vampires and put them out of action. Use your individual weapons to defend yourself, hit the walls as accurately as possible until the sun rises and allows the sun's rays to shine through the holes in the walls onto the vampires to burn them. No. 5 Once you have survived the required hack and slay time, all you have to do is go out of the exit to your car and start driving to the next town. From then on, following the same principle, you must clear the bar of the other poker players and fellow players and guests who turn into vampires in order to collect points. Drive from town to town and free all occupied areas. TitiTwister Bars, from the Vampire Beasts

No. 6 If you have freed all the bars from the vampires, you must now advance to other countries and, following the same principle, first win the car race and then visit the places where the other vampire bars are located. The ultimate goal is to free the whole world or countries from the vampires and clean these bars in order to take them over, in order to build casinos for your customers from the bars as the game progresses and use this as your investment.

No. 7 The players who have cleaned the most vampire bars in this multiplayer, in real time, and have turned them into individual casinos and have the highest economic success with the slot machines, see App Gallery No. 402 and 553, win the game against the other simultaneously playing internet, online vampire hunter teams.

No. 813 TurnIntoCrow

No. 1 in this game, you have to try to kill sheep, which means that you have to scare all the sheep into the pen with your crow in order to then kill them step by step

No. 2 The sheep run around randomly and unpredictably on the smartphone screen, again they must not leave the edge of the screen, otherwise there will be points deducted from the time clock, the game is timed and you have to lead all the sheep into the pen in a certain time in order to then be able to catch them No. 3 You control your crow with touch and push it in the right direction or into the free field where the sheep is moving, which means that if you block the direction, this move will cause the sheep to run into a position determined by you

No. 4 If you have chased some sheep from the display into the pen with your crow, you can now try to snatch them out of the air. This happens when the sheep have collected enough lying vector points on the way to the pen during the chase.

No. 5 If the sheep that you have guided in the right direction, towards the pen, have picked up enough given vector points, whether small, medium or large, you can now use the crow to try to pull a sheep out of the pen by dragging and dropping from crow to sheep and then placing it in its nest.

No. 6 You have to transport a given number of sheep to their nest within a time limit, otherwise the game is lost. For each sheep collected, you receive points + that are credited to your time credit account, so carry out the moves mentioned here to then move on to the new and next more difficult level.

No. 815 Wazgetap

No. 1 In this game, you control the slasher from the scary movie in a bird's eye view and have to do the following with him: he has to put together all the individual, small, medium and large faces that appear in different colors, pixels on the display of the face you are looking for

No. 2 Try to collect the pixels that come from all directions of the display in order and position them in the blank face field so that the desired and required face is made recognizable

No. 3 However, you are prevented from collecting the pixels because the policeman and other players from the film Scary Movie, namely the other computer opponents, try to take the pixels away from you beforehand, so you have to pull them out of the traffic while they hunt the pixels and try to collect them.

No. 4 You must, with your rubber knife, prevent these other computer opponents from sucking up your required pixels or shout at them in the required proximity to chase them from the position, the required other weapons can be picked up as power items on the display when they appear

No. 5 If you have collected all the required pixels of the face you are looking for and put them together in the blank face field, the face can perform a super move. It first shouts Wazgetap and the shout causes the pixels placed by the computer opponent to be brought out of their shape and scattered onto the playing field for you to pick up. A snake also comes out of its mouth and tries to eat the computer opponent and thus remove them from the playing field step by step.

No. 5 If you have collected all the required pixels of the face you are looking for and put them together in the blank face field, the face can perform a super move. It first shouts Wazgetap and the shout causes the pixels placed by the computer opponent to be brought out of their shape and scattered onto the playing field for you to pick up. A snake also comes out of its mouth and tries to eat the computer opponent and thus remove them from the playing field step by step.

No. 6 You have to form a total of 3 faces from the pixels before the normal time runs out to get to the next level, try to form the faces faster than your computer opponents and grab their pixels and put them into the shape for your desired face

No. 7 In addition, barriers and obstacles appear on the playing field that prevent you from picking up the pixels, as well as traps and items that may make you faster, slower, stronger, weaker, smaller, larger in order to pick up the pixels. In multiplayer mode or online mode, you compete against up to 6 characters from the film at the same time in order to decide the game according to the above game principle, especially since the levels can change and change in real time.

No. 816 Windshield

No. 1 In this case, the game physics means that you have to navigate a toucan bird through the level and keep it in the air and let it float so that it doesn't fall to the ground. This works when you position the wind turbines, which are available to you as a number of pieces, in the right places where you think they would be helpful, in order to use the gust of wind from the wind turbine to let the toucan bird float in the right direction and in the air so that it doesn't fall to the ground. You push the set wind turbines by turning and touching them and feel individually the strength that you give to the wind turbine with the touch to get it moving so that a gust of wind drives the toucan bird forward.

No. 2 Try to fly the required kilometer distance with the toucan bird in a certain time in order to get to the next checkpoint, so that another online player has to drive the toucan bird further from this checkpoint. This multiplayer massive online game provides for the entire length, the requirement of the referee, to be fulfilled. The individual countries of the world take part in this game. The one who, as a team, for example Team USA vs Germany, completes the longest distance by switching the randomly selected players they had registered for, wins the previously agreed bet, this is about an agreed amount of money, which the winner receives if he and his team keep the toucan bird floating in the air for the longest time and thus completes the longest distance of the round.

No.817 Zakaslove

No. 1 The digital poker website, which is set up digitally, is based on the dating function, that is, you play to request photos and videos, as well as the release for communication of single women or men

No. 2 Here, the game principle of Texas Hold-em is used, the person who has achieved the most points after a certain time or expiring time is allowed to connect the person who is a hidden identity with their profile photo, which can be done via voice, text, phone call and free of charge in the mutual exchange of singles, as well as women and men.

No. 3 For example, you play to connect a single woman to convince her to communicate with up to 6 single men nearby who the woman liked. These single men play together at the poker table with them to gain permission to communicate with the single woman. If you have the most points and answered the questions the single woman asks the single men during the game correctly and earned the most points, you will receive hearts that are used to communicate with the single woman.

No. 4 For each round you win, you receive hearts in relation to the communication exchange with the single woman in your area and, in exchange for the hearts you have earned, you can unlock photos, write longer texts to her or even activate videos for viewing that the single woman has uploaded to this dating poker site, in secret and encrypted.

No. 5 If you have established communication because you were able to score enough points in the poker rounds against the other single men and answered questions about yourself correctly, you can now try to use the program's AI in the communication to find out whether this person is a good match for you or not. The program offers you an interview function if communication ideas fail. This means, in the sense of the game Jeopardy or YouDontKnowJack, you are given the opportunity to keep the conversation exciting about yourself. There are 3 computer opponents playing with you, and if you beat them, you will receive a gift in the amount of a voucher for your local restaurant or a romantic day trip or an original bouquet of flowers that is provided to you free of charge.

No. 6 You can also, as a man, switch on a poker round-based single game for single women if you have registered and paid a fee (amount of money) to the program via Paypal. the women now play to create a connection with them and, according to the principle mentioned above, go into the poker rounds and try to unlock communication with them and win enough hearts to be able to contact them personally and, for example, to compete against the other computer opponents in the AI question game so that they can win gifts for them, as mentioned before, and have them available for free, and ultimately hand them over to them, which contribute to better communication.

No. 818 Zamuhey

No. 1 In this game, armed with a samurai and his versatile sword, you must try to pluck chickens of different colors and sizes that appear individually from the directions of the display with your different swords, matching the different colors and sizes of the chickens, and ultimately use the sword to cut them into several pieces. No. 2 The chickens run around randomly on the screen and collect colored grains in order to become faster and fatter. You must stop this because the chickens become stronger and can harm you as a result.

Therefore, you must react quickly and pluck them first so that they can stop their aggression and aggressiveness towards them and not harm them.

No. 3 There are barriers and obstacles scattered across the screen that either prevent you from catching the chickens directly or help them to get to safety from the adult chickens, and the fat chickens can also lay bombs and eggs after eating the colored grains, which then explode and can take life energy from them

No. 4 Make sure you move enough to charge your samurai to be able to pluck the fat chickens, you also need a small, medium and large sword in different colors to pluck and ultimately slaughter the other individual types of chickens, you start with a small sword, which lengthens and becomes larger over time and after several uses against the chickens, you also have to collect color cartridges so that you get the right color of sword to pluck and slaughter the specific colored chicken with it

No. 5 After a while, the chickens will try to run away from the screen, you have to prevent that, otherwise there will be - time deductions, for each chicken slaughtered you get a + time point, which is credited to your time credit account, the game runs on time, if the time runs out and you have not plucked and slaughtered all the chickens, they will turn into fat chickens and it will be much more difficult to reduce the number of chickens

No. 819 NHL+

No. 1 You have to try to compete with the other team players in this game, as is known from the NHL game series, with the team players against each other. In NHL+, you have to expect changes that will change the game. For example, while you are shooting a shot or a run, in order to get points from the free field, you have to collect a letter beforehand that is first searched for on the scoreboard for the word you are looking for. The aim is to collect the letter before or during the shot or run and then to score the goal with the puck after activating the letter, so that the letter on the scoreboard can be activated for the word you are looking for.

No. 2 After unlocking the word you are looking for, you will have the opportunity to unlock some special abilities, which means that, as is well known, power icons appear on the playing field that offer you special abilities, for example a fire puck, ice puck, hard puck, soft puck, bomb puck, dynamite puck, water puck, tennis puck, a small, medium or large puck that you can then use after picking up the special ability to improve the shot or, in some cases, to make it worse due to bad luck. There are also power icons with the following functions if you pick them up during and before the shot or run. These power icons are time-limited and disappear from the playing field after a while, so be on your guard and quick when collecting them, which must first be unlocked by the word function you are looking for. Other power icons include improved running abilities, shot security, passing accuracy, life energy, speed, stamina, health. Amplification, transparency, invisibility, size differences of the players, time reduction and stop, plus generation of the game clock, slowing down, multiplication of the players and the ball and many others that are only activated after the word search has been unlocked or simply appear randomly in the game to be collected

No. 3 As usual, you play team against team on different levels, which have special barriers and obstacles that can prevent you from correctly recognizing the throw or the run on the playing field. The levels are, like Mortal Kombat, in real time and can contain traps or they try to take you out of the game. Therefore, you use the unlocked, appearing power icons to function better in certain and individual areas of the level and thus adapt the game, improve it and change and adapt the shots and runs in time with the special skills that correspond to the levels.

No. 4 The strategies for the next moves will be based on their own ideas, which means that they speak into the microphone what they are planning for a move and the game registers their own opinion and idea about the move and integrates this into the game in real time

No. 5 You can play against the AI computer-controlled opponents in adventure mode, and after each successful game that has been completed, you can upgrade your player skills. This happens when you have previously collected the appropriately colored vector points in different and individual sizes during the game. These player skill points appear after successful combos or throws and runs that you perform in the game. This means that if you have hit several shots in a row or blocked runs, or used the power icons to score a hit or completed a run, you can improve your team characters in the level break with the collected special vector points to improve your skills so that you are prepared for the next match. In addition, you can compete against the whole world in online mode and challenge players from the Internet carousel. Create your own team individually in design mode and make a name for yourself in the online world of players or you can look for players in the world map in the real world and After finding the match pass in the real world, you need to collect it using your smartphone, and then you have to win a mini game before you receive the match pass. This means you look for the match pass in the real world and then scan the target location with your smartphone. When a digital puck appears in front of your camera, you have to hit it on the goal in 3 shots and that is enough to unleash contact with another player for the general game, basically starting NHL+ against another player from the online world.

No. 820 NBA+

No. 1 You have to try to compete in this game, as is known from the NBAJam game series, with 2 against 2 players, in NBAJam+ you have to expect changes that will change the game, for example, while you are making a throw to get points from the free field, you have to collect a letter that is first searched for on the scoreboard for the word you are looking for, the aim is to collect the letter before the throw and then to score 2 or 3 points after activating the letter so that the letter on the scoreboard can be activated for the word you are looking for.

No. 2 After unlocking the word you are looking for, you will have the opportunity to unlock some special abilities, which means that, as is well known, power icons appear on the playing field that offer you special abilities, for example, a fireball, ice ball, hardball, softball, bomb ball, dynamite ball, water ball, tennis ball, a small, medium or large ball, which you can then use after picking up to improve the throw with the special ability or, in some cases, to make it worse due to bad luck, there are also power icons with the following functions if you pick them up during and before the throw, these power icons are time-limited and disappear from the playing field after a while, so be on your guard and quick when collecting them, which must first be unlocked using the horse word function, the other power icons include improved dunk skills, throw security, passing accuracy, life energy, speed, stamina, health, reinforcement, transparency, invisibility, size differences of the Players, time reduction and stop, plus generation of the game clock, slowdown, multiplication of players and the ball and many others that are only activated after unlocking the word search

No. 3 As usual, you play 2 against 2 on different levels, which have special barriers and obstacles that can prevent you from correctly recognizing the throw or the run to the basket, the levels are in real time, like Mortal Kombat, and can contain traps or they try to take you out of the game, so you use the unlocked, appearing power icons to function better in certain and individual areas of the level and thus adapt the game, improve it and change and adapt the throws in time with the special skills that correspond to the levels

No. 4 You can play against the AI computer-controlled opponents in adventure mode, and after each successful game that has been completed, you can upgrade your player skills. This happens when you have previously collected additional colored vector points in different and individual sizes during the game. These player skill points also appear after successful combos or dunks that you perform in the game. This means that if you have hit or blocked several throws in a row or used the power icons to score a hit, you can improve your 2 characters in the level break with the collected special vector points to improve your skills so that you are prepared for the next match. You can also compete against the whole world in online mode and challenge players from the Internet carousel. No. 821 NFL+

No. 1 You have to try to compete with the other team players in this game, as is known from the NFL game series, with the team players against each other. In NFL+, you have to expect changes that will change the game. For example, while you are making a throw or a run, in order to get points from the open field, you have to collect a letter beforehand that is first searched for on the scoreboard for the word you are looking for. The aim is to collect the letter before or during the throw or run and then to score the touchdown after the throw or run has been activated so that the letter on the scoreboard can be activated for the word you are looking for.

No. 2 After unlocking the word you are looking for, you will have the opportunity to unlock some special abilities, which means that, as is well known, power icons appear on the playing field that offer you special abilities, for example, a fire ball, ice ball, hard ball, soft ball, bomb ball, dynamite ball, water ball, tennis ball, a small, medium or large ball, which you can then use after picking up to improve the throw with the special ability or, in some cases, to make it worse due to bad luck, there are also power icons with the following functions if you pick them up during and before the throw or run, these power icons are time-limited and disappear from the playing field after a while, so be on your guard and quick when collecting them, which must first be unlocked by the word function you are looking for, the other power icons include improved running abilities, throwing security, passing accuracy, life energy, speed, stamina, health, reinforcement, transparency, invisibility, size differences the player, time reduction and stop, plus generation of the game clock, slowing down, multiplication of the players and the ball and many others that are only activated after unlocking the word search, or simply appear randomly in the game to collect them

No. 822 CubeDog

No. 1 In this game, you have to choose a dog as your character through a 3D cube that provides you with various individual rooms with portals. You start the game by appearing in an individual room and trying to collect the colored snacks in different colors and sizes with your dog in a specified time. You have a display board where you are looking for certain snacks. If you have collected the necessary snacks in your room with your dog before cats break through the 4 openings in the 3D room and appear in these directions to steal the snacks from under your nose, you can then use one of the activated portals to get to another room and find the snacks lying there and finally, before the cats break in, when the time runs out, pick them up in the correct order in order to open another portal before the intruders, namely the cats, who stream through the portal openings in your room to steal the snacks from them. To snatch snacks, activate No. 2 If the cats break in, you have to scare them off with your dog by running close enough to them and barking loudly with your dog to chaotically confuse them, you have to collect colored vector points to activate barking against the cat or call and activate a cat hunter so that he catches the annoying cats, to clean the room for you by catching them and emptying the play area of them, to activate the cat hunter, you have to collect enough individual vector points in the right form and order, also don't forget to collect the snacks to bring the randomly opened and activated 3D portal and its new entrance to a new room, each room has new positions for the snacks + the security vector points and consists of traps, barriers, obstacles and bombs that you have to avoid

No. 3 Try to collect all the snacks in the required time and in the right order before the cats appear and can harm you and block the portals for you to escape or get you in the room so that you choose the wrong portal where you meet other users from the game. If you meet other dogs, it can lead to a beat-up between those players later on. You should avoid this at the beginning of the game because by collecting the snacks you get so-called skill points with which you can upgrade and improve your character in order to be able to randomly compete against the other characters, i.e. the other dogs from the multiplayer game with a strengthened character.

No. 4 Be quick and efficient when collecting the snacks you are looking for in the various rooms that you can unlock and visit during the game, pay attention to the time running out per room and only carry out the beat m up fights, if there should be one or more between the other players, when you have equipped your dog with new skills at a good status and in the future, have fulfilled the goal, you always look for new snacks by activating the portals and try to pick them up in time to get the upgrades, which will be important in the future of the game, you have to unlock a certain number of rooms within a specified time and get to them through the portals that you have unlocked, pay attention, as I said, to the cats and other players that appear, as well as the real-time changing circumstances and changes in the rooms that are transformed in real time, once you have managed the number of rooms and collected enough snacks, you can wander into a new and unique 3D shape scheme and continue the game principle there, for example in a cone or a 3D circle, go on a search and unlock the other shapes, in order to be able to see all the shapes at the end of the game and ultimately escape from the 3D shape labyrinth in order to be able to get home again, in order to create a new instrumental sound with the music machine with the snacks that were intended as sound notes, see App Gallery (Muskflatfan No. 458), in order to use them with the ones you found for it Passages of a text that you have previously unlocked and recorded in the premises, a new hit for the future, with the program, see App Gallery (Vinylmiy+ No. 612) to make music and develop for the idea, see also the App Gallery (Paystream No. 685), to be able to

No. 823 CinDaCat

No. 1 You create a new website with multimedia content, for this you upload your personal data, such as music, video, images, programs + your collected data works to Cinworld, the internet site is a 3D-like planet and links and connects the data that is uploaded to its database, which is saved there in the cloud

No. 2 You are visible on the planet as an avatar or vector avatar point, which means that you are in a spider web with other users from the Internet who have registered on Cinworld, in various connections, you can search the 3D planet Cinworld, see Google Earth, at every intersection point (vector point) of the so-called spider-like connection network, there is a portal with your avatar as the name, if you click on the avatar, you can access its hard drive by request and for a small amount, depending on the agreement, and search for the data you have entered, which the requested avatar could make available.

No. 3 You can make your data available on Cinworld free of charge or, by arrangement, you can obtain access to the amount you have purchased or to access a portal based on the amount of data you have technically purchased, which is counted in GB. Once you have logged into a portal, you can enter the data you were looking for by submitting a mirror of your data and request an exchange, or the data you have purchased or have already purchased. Freely available multimedia data in a new mask on the hard drive logged in for you, and thus find and download your data or display it via stream like on YouTube

No. 4 You can also add the streamed multimedia data to your own 3D networked planet as a distribution link and make it available for distribution to other users who have logged into your 3D planet by invitation. This distribution variant is described as free of charge. If you wish to receive the raw data of the multimedia content as a file format, then you must pay a small amount, as mentioned above, to the distributor avatar of this data that you found in the spider's web, via Paypal or credit card.

No. 5 Everything is based on mutual coordination, agreements with the data founders, or with the companies that finance this project and own the copyright to this data. We assume free use and try to use the multimedia data in 3D Planet that was created and uploaded free of charge by the users. This means that you can simply, as mentioned above, select your desired country and enter your desired search term in the search mask. Using the spider-like virtual linking of the avatars, these avatars appear at the intersection point of the distribution network and give you the opportunity to click on an avatar and thus access its link directory, its link collection. In the portal itself, you can see the link collection categorically and alphabetically ordered or you can explicitly enter your term in the new search mask and thereby find your desired link to the media content, which you can access via real-time stream and enjoy in full resolution.

No.824 SmashBoysSmashGirls

No. 1 In this game you have to try to build a connection with a female or male single, to do this you first have to unlock the faces disguised as emojis and under a user name on the Single Love Radar in your area to see who is hiding behind the emoji

No. 2 To do this, you have to click on the emoji that is marked for female or male singles to start the game and get to the profile of the female or male single. The game is about pushing or swiping the emojis that appear in the correct, predetermined order in the predetermined direction of the display, i.e. up, down, left, right, and to the corners of the display, or smashing them with a digital baseball bat.

No. 3 For each correctly moved emoji in the right direction you get points, you have to reach a certain number of points to get to the profile of the female or male single, in order to then unlock the communication options, the options include images, text, video, voice exchange and are made available to you after successfully completing the game, to activate an option you now have to conquer a higher and more difficult game flow again according to the game principle mentioned here, if you do not manage to communicate within a general time limit that is running against you, the connection to the user is blocked and you have to choose a new one or wait a day until you can get in touch again using the communication channels you have earned.

No. 4 To get around the game, they can and must find and catch the digital hearts that have been hidden in their real vicinity or environment with their smartphone and send emojis to the female or male partner in order to get in touch with them

No. 825 TheForce

No. 1 In this game you must try to unlock a power called TheForce. To use this power you must pay attention to the following: Individual balls in different colors and sizes will appear on the screen from different directions of the screen edge.

No. 2 You must try to connect these balls to their appropriate color and size, which means that you have to touch small and red balls to small and red balls, for example, with your finger and swipe them together so that the balls meet and merge into one another and become a medium, red ball. In this way, you must then throw or swipe the medium ball to a medium red ball so that it merges into a large red ball and then throw or swipe the large red ball to a large ball so that it turns into a mega ball. No. 3 The aim is to create several mega balls, or to create them by merging the individual sizes and colors of the small, medium and large balls. With these mega balls, you must now charge your sparrow slingshot, which is in the middle of the display, and try to hit your opponents, who are in different directions outside the screen, left, right, top and bottom, with it, which they produce and throw, always new balls. on your screen to make it confusing or block

No. 3 If you have hit all the opponents from the respective directions, your TheForce display will charge up. Keep trying to link the next balls and then, in the Mega status, aim at the newly appearing opponents with your sparrow slingshot placed in the middle and finally hit them, thereby taking their energy. Your TheForce display will fill up to maximum status, so you can now use it. After activating TheForce, all the balls will disappear from the display for a short time. Now you have a clear and better view of your opponents, who are moving back and forth at the edge of the screen. Use the Mega balls you have created from your sparrow slingshot inventory to finally remove these opponents from the display.

No. 4 The game is timed, for each linked ball, as described above, you get + points, for each incorrectly linked point - points, you must destroy all opponents before the time runs out, otherwise the game is lost, you earn more time through the various links, which you then use strategically to take the opponents out of circulation with your sparrow slingshot with the mega balls

No. 826 Ekipio

No. 1 In this game, you must protect your real environment, see Google Maps, an authentic map, as a team of 3 self-created characters in a 2D shooter with special graphic design, in a bird's eye view, and free your village or city from invading monsters, from these nasty invaders

No. 2 First, you select your location using the 3D globe and start the game. You have to go out of your house and activate your 2 neighbors, i.e. your fellow players who can play in this game. Now you control your character through the village and look for ammunition and weapon systems until the time runs out and it gets dark. Make sure you have collected enough ammunition and enough weapon systems that you need to use after the time runs out.

No. 3 After the time runs out, it gets dark in your village and you see, on the radar, that enemy opponents, in this case monsters, are preparing to attack your village. You and your 2 other players must now stop them by setting up barriers and obstacles on the streets beforehand and wait until the monsters invade and try to storm into the houses to eat or kidnap the residents.

No. 4 Try not to let the monsters go into the houses, otherwise you will have to go after them yourself and then run into the houses and neutralize the monsters, while you are playing in the bird's eye view, the game switches to the first person perspective if you run into one of the residents' houses and try to protect the residents

No. 5 Try to keep all monsters under control in a time limit or, ideally, destroy them completely to prevent a new onslaught during the next attack

No. 6 For each monster you kill, you receive points. After you have repelled the attack on your village or city and your location, you can use these points to generate new ammunition and weapon systems for the next section of a newly selected location on the 3D globe.

No. 7 It is best to try to clear your location from the monsters and seal it off, or then get to the nearest village or town, in order to protect it from there, according to this principle, and keep it away from the monsters.

To destroy all of these in this region

No. 8 Each cleaned and purified region is marked with a color on the 3D globe, try to protect your state and protect all future infested regions step by step from the attack of the invading monsters, in addition, new online players will help you if you have unlocked a new region, so your team will ultimately become a massive defense multiple multiplayer game

No. 827 LoveTouch

No. 1 You have to do the following in this Discovery Plugin for Google to create your own digital newspaper of daily news. All you have to do is drag and drop your visible news into the little heart in Discover. After dragging and dropping the news article into the heart, a day of the week will appear, and you can then drag and drop your news article into it.

No. 2 If you have put together your news articles for the week, for example, the Google Discover LoveTouch Plugin saves them in a clear digital table, which means that you can now click on the LoveTouch symbol in Discover and see your weekly news, which you have put together yourself, in a digital table format.

No. 3 For example, you click on Monday and a row of news items appears to scroll through. If you click on a news article again, it opens as usual and links you to the publisher of this page, where you can read the entire article.

No. 4 Once you have read this article, you can now leave your review and your own opinion in the LoveTouch plugin about the news you have selected

No. 5 Once you have created your weekly news magazine, you can share it with other users from around the world in the Discovery Network, or receive new ones so that you don't forget the news that you consider urgently necessary to stay up to date.
